Report for 1932

Evangelistic Work.

Bible Women—The chief event of the year has been the starting in evangelistic work of two young Chinese women, Miss Ho and Miss Jin. Miss Ho taught in our Girls' Primary School after her graduation from the Middle School, then went to Shanghai for a two years course in Bible School. Miss Jin is a graduate of our Primary School and of the Shanghai Bible School. They are living together in a small apartment in the heart of Amoy city. It is a very noisy place but it is central for their work. And what is their work? Visiting homes in Amoy city and in the villages on Amoy island, taking meetings, one for children held in their living room every Sunday morning, and helping preachers and pastors in their evangelistic work. We ask that you will remember these two young women in your prayers.

It seemed best no longer to employ Mrs. Kee who for some years has been Bible woman at the village of Tia-bay on the mainland. A little group of Christians is the result of her work under God. But her second son has lost his mind and, as a consequence, her work was interfered with. The way was opened for Mrs. Kee to live in Amoy and she is the kind of person who will do what she can though not employed as a Mission Bible Woman. A short time ago her son was wandering the streets and was arrested as a vagrant and taken to a place where four or five hundred such people are confined. His mother went to take him something to eat, as the city gives these people only soft boiled rice without even salt to eat with it. As a result of her visit she bought a big bag of salt and friends added to the amount and there was enough salt for everybody there. She also went with some others to preach to these people and then told the missionary she was going to get five hundred little slips with a prayer printed on them to teach them to pray.

We need many more Bible Women of the type of both Mrs. Kee and Misses Ho and Jin. "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that He send forth laborers into His harvest."

LILY N. DURYEE

Educational Work

Amoy Girls' Middle School—One of the most gratifying factors in the work of the year has been the transfer of leadership and responsibility to the Chinese. In last year's report we explained that, owing to the necessity of registration, the management of the school was given over to a Board of Christian Chinese. This Board has taken hold splendidly, as is evidenced by the fact that they were willing to take the financial responsibility for adding a wing to the class-room building. This entailed a great amount of work for, aside from a sum received from the balance on our current budget, the funds for the new building were solicited by the Board members from our Amoy community. The hearty support given us by both Christian and non-Christian Chinese in this undertaking indicates the awakening of social consciousness which promises much for future co-operation.

On the part of the faculty there has also been much evidence of the spirit of service. Our new principal is on leave of absence to the University to complete his course for a degree, and meanwhile the affairs of the school are managed by our executive committee of the faculty. Aside from our full-time teachers, we have had the gratuitous services of Doctor and Mrs. Pai (the latter a graduate nurse) in teaching Hygiene and First Aid in Senior Middle, as well as the valuable aid of Mr. Ling in directing the Glee Club.

While this change in leadership is significant of many things, it does not mean that we as missionaries have withdrawn, but for the present we are working with them shoulder to shoulder, sharing the burden in every way we can. Aside from the writer, Miss Bleakney has given her full time to the school, Miss Beekman has given part time, and Doctor Holleman has served as school physician.

Because our enrollment has increased so rapidly (from 150 to 225 students within two years), it became imperative that we provide additional class-rooms. It may be accounted one of this year's blessings, therefore, that we were able to add to our main building an addition consisting of six large class-rooms—two recitation rooms with a capacity of fifty each, two laboratories—chemistry and physics, a library and reading-room and an art room. The rooms are light, airy, attractive—the pride of the school.

Far more important than the material building, however, has been the very apparent building up of the school spirit this past year, and for this blessing we are most grateful. We have had an especially strong faculty, working not only for the educational interests of the school, but especially for its spiritual interests. A whole day's retreat before school opened brought us very close together as we discussed our responsibility as Christian teachers to bring Jesus Christ to our pupils both through curricular and extra-curricular activities and through personal work. One of the outcomes of this retreat was a meeting every Friday evening for prayer and fellowship. The spiritual activities among the students have also been an inspiration. While religious work is now on a voluntary basis, practically one hundred per cent attend chapel daily and over eighty per cent have regular classes in Bible study twice each week. During the year six girls united with the church. In our present graduating class, more than fifty per cent are from non-Christian homes, but all have expressed their desire to follow Christ, though some have not yet had the courage to confess Him openly.

One indication of the spiritual life in the school is the number of volunteers for Sunday service. This year more than sixty students volunteered, and we found work for them all. We conducted four children's meetings (a total enrollment of more than 275 children), two regular Sunday Schools and a children's worship service in one of the Amoy churches and sent a band to one of our hospitals to do personal work. Not only pupils but nine of our faculty members were engaged in some special service on Sundays. On Christmas the entire school again divided into groups to bring the Christmas spirit in song and story and gifts to the poor in our various chapels.

Were the pupils asked to count their blessings this year, I am sure there are two events which would have a place of prominence. The first is an athletic meet held during the spring term, when for two days our girls proved their skill in athletics. Our new physical director is a former pupil. She has been remarkably successful, not only in creating enthusiasm for athletics, but especially in training the girls in sportsmanship. This fall the Educational Bureau of Amoy arranged for inter-school athletic contests, and it needs little imagination to realize the enthusiasm of the girls when theirs was the championship in both volley ball and basket ball!

And finally I would mention the Teachers' Conference held in April, for which we were privileged to serve as hostess. For five days more than 170 Christian teachers—Middle and Primary—came together for inspiration and fellowship. It is the first time that something of this nature has been attempted on such a large scale, but it proved so successful that there was an almost unanimous request that such a conference be held annually. There is no doubt that it furnished stimulus and inspiration to many, spurring them on to more zealous effort in building up the Kingdom of God.

TENA HOLKEBOER

Amoy Girls' Primary School—The Amoy Girls' Primary School has had a very happy year. Miss Lee and the staff of fourteen full-time and four part-time teachers worked together congenially and helped in many activities outside their regular teaching hours. There was an enrollment of 368 in the spring term and 347 in the fall term, with 452 names in all on the roll. In the dormitory, there were 49 pupils and 11 teachers as boarders, while 28 others took the noon meal in school. In June, a class of 40 received diplomas, and 37 of them continued their studies in our Middle School. For the first time, our graduates had to take the examinations put out by the Amoy Board of Education. Whereas some schools merely sent their best pupils, we sent the whole class, and all but one of the girls passed and received the stamped diploma from the Board of Education.

Mrs. Ang, the former principal, returned from her year at the Bible School in Shanghai and took up the religious work, releasing Miss Ho for evangelistic work in Amoy. Since Religious Education must be on a voluntary basis now, and outside of school hours, the classes are held during the noon recess, from 11.45 to 12.15 and from 1.30 to 2.00. We are glad to be able to report that every pupil took part though a few did not share in all the activities. Separate report cards were given at the end of the term. Attendance at church and Sunday School was good, half of the students of the school having 100% for the term, and one hundred more over 90%. Eighteen of the Middle School girls took charge of the afternoon Sunday School and made the hour very enjoyable for the little children.

The pupils, through the different branches of their Student's Association, have looked after the school store, the school library, news bulletins, after-school athletics and the lost and found office and have conducted cleanliness campaigns, book reading contests, etc. They have their own little meeting-room with special desks for the heads of the different departments.

Outstanding events of the year have been the exhibition of work, to which the parents were invited, a program of drill, folk-dancing and games under the leadership of Miss Chng, and the physical examination of all our pupils, in which the doctors from the hospital rendered great assistance. Follow-up letters were sent to the parents suggesting co-operation in bettering the physical condition of the pupils. This term there were also extensive repairs made, in order that the classroom and chapel accommodation might be more adequate to our needs.

The school is about 90% self-supporting.

A report is an unsatisfactory way of telling of the life of a school. It is the mere bones or framework, without the life. But here we have a living organization, a "Developing Character" school, and hundreds of children are being brought under the influence of Christian teaching. We ask your prayers that first things may always be put first and that these many pupils and teachers may be reached for the Master.

EDNA K. BECKMAN

Charlotte Duryee Bible School.—Our school has had over eighty pupils during the year, both young and old, some able to pay the full fees and others from poorer homes who find it difficult to pay for their food, since while studying they have not the opportunity to earn their living. Our aim is that each pupil before she leaves will know of the love of God, His saving power and His hatred of sin. Some of the women are able to study two or three years and prepare for work in the churches. They receive special normal training and Bible courses to fit them for usefulness. One, who graduated some years ago, is now our matron, teaching classes as well. Another, for some years a Bible Woman in the North River District, is this coming year to be on our staff of teachers. Other women can study for a short period, some only for part of a term. Some of these do make remarkable progress, not only in learning to read, but in understanding the way of salvation. We often find some of these women from heathen homes, even after years, holding fast the Gospel in the midst of many trials and temptations.

The first term this year the Communist raid brought many refugees to Amoy. Some of the Christian women took advantage of this opportunity for further study and joined classes in the school. We were pleased to receive them, feeling it would be a help to them to study the Bible further. They all felt grateful for the privilege.

Every morning before breakfast the women keep the Morning Watch. They are divided into three groups, with a teacher to lead them in prayer and reading the Bible, and each day they memorize a text. Even the newcomers who cannot read are taught the verse, and in this way many Psalms are learned by all. We have a weekly prayer-meeting and this term it has been greatly enjoyed. The desire to pray has been shown by the number of old and young taking part. Many prayers seem so earnest, prayers for their own salvation and for their relatives. Some pray with tears, some ask a teacher or friend to pray for them. Some have said to me, "I had no opportunity to pray, because there were so many who took part." The Lord who commands us to pray, we know will answer the longing heart. There is a little "Prayer Room" on the verandah next to the chapel, and there anyone who desires may go for private prayer. We hear that many go there to pray.

Every week we have had two evangelistic meetings for the new pupils and others who wish to attend. Many of them had not heard the Gospel before. The women seem to enjoy these meetings and respond so earnestly that it is a pleasure to speak to them. There are many in the school who we feel are following the Saviour. All say they wish to be Christians, but one adds, "I am in a family where all serve idols, and they will insist that I join in the worship. But I want to be a Christian."

We have had the help of Miss Duryee, Miss Morrison, Mrs. Holleman, and Miss Duncan of the London Mission in the school throughout the year, which help has been greatly appreciated. KATHARINE M. TALMAGE

The Children's Home.—In a short history of the Children's Home written about a year ago Miss M. E. Talmage wrote: "Of the six women (three Scotch, three Americans) who opened the Children's Home in 1887, three are now in our Father's Home above, one is in Scotland, and two are still on the Home Committee." And now she herself has joined the three in our Father's Home above. She resigned as Treasurer of the Home at the last meeting of the Committee in 1931. It seemed as if she knew her work on earth was nearing completion. On April 6, 1932, God called her to Himself. Only eternity will show what Miss Talmage accomplished for the children who were saved from neglect and death. She always took a great interest in the children. The writer of this report well remembers one summer when she had them come to her house for games and a happy time, taking them in relays and giving her time and strength two or three mornings each week in the hot summer weather. She used to call the matron to her room and together they would pray for the children. We saw the answers to some of her prayers and we believe there were many other answers which we could not see.

One new child has been received into the Home as a permanent inmate. Red Orange is the daughter of a widow living in a village on Amoy island. Her father, a farmer, died leaving the mother with four daughters and very little to live on. Red Orange is three years old, a chubby little girl with a will of her own. Three other children have also been received into the Home for the school term and are day pupils at school. One of these is the daughter of a former child of the Home. Her name is Valuable. Another whose name is Precious Goodness is the little half-sister of Pity, one of the older girls who is studying kindergarten. Her parents are poor and the child was not receiving the care she needed at home; so we are giving her a home and letting her go to school. Fifth Precious is the daughter of a widow whose husband was a school teacher in the Tong-an region. About a year ago he and several of the children came down with typhoid fever. He died, leaving Mrs. Lee with six children. She is an earnest Christian woman and is nobly carrying the responsibilities devolving upon her. The Home is helping her to provide for the three younger children.

The three blind girls are still at the Foochow school but Iu-a, the oldest one, will probably return to us this year as Miss Lamb must make room for new children. The baby in Tong-an is still loved and cared for by her foster mother.

One of our older girls was betrothed towards the end of the year and was married a few weeks ago. Her husband has a position in a small hand weaving cloth factory in the village of Che-chiu on Amoy Island. She and some friends went by auto from Amoy city to Che-chiu where the groom was waiting for her, and they were married in the little church there. We hear that she is very happy.

I close this report with the words with which Miss Talmage closed her report of a year ago: "Again we thank most heartily all our kind friends, who by their gifts make this work for homeless children possible, and we plead that with all your donations of money and other gifts, you will ever remember the most important one, namely to pray for the children." May we heed these words written by one who worked and prayed for the children during her life on earth and may her plea not be in vain.

CHANG-CHOW

Women's Work

The Chang-chow district is a large one—some twelve stations in all. In peace times one finds it difficult to cover such a large area, but during times like the past year it is quite impossible. And so there are several of the farther-away places that were not visited once during the year. One Bible Woman was at "Dragon Mountain" when the Reds came. She had to flee to the mountains and remain in hiding for two months. The people took her in even at their own risk, and she made many friends. This fall she again visited this district and the people were glad to see her and hear more of her message.

During October the Chioh-be church had five days of special meetings. Great crowds came, mostly church people, for the object of the meetings was to revive the church from within.

The Hai-teng church was visited twice during the year. This church is at rather low ebb and needs our prayers and support. But we do not despair, for a young doctor and his wife there are deeply interested in spiritual things and are doing all they can to put new life into the church. Both of these young people were trained in our own Hope Hospital. For the church there are two hopeful signs: (1) The Doctor has just been elected elder, (2) The church has a new preacher. The future looks good.

The Chang-chow churches are as alive as any in South Fukien. The Tang-poa-au church, the one nearest our home, is crowded twice every Sunday. The Bible Woman does a good work, and the church women are very cordial and do considerable calling. The women take an active part in all the church work.

The Women's Union Missionary Society of all the four churches in the city met this fall. They decided to hold meetings more often during the coming year. Several new members joined the society by contributing to the work of the Women's Home Missionary Society. There seems to be a growing interest in this work.

Educational Work

Chang-chow Girls' School.—The Girls' School is completely registered and the School Board, composed of earnest Christians, is now functioning. Mrs. Lim still remains our efficient principal. The school was progressing nicely with full enrollment (180) when the Reds made their visit and stopped the work for the term. Mrs. Lim deserves much credit for the intelligent way she handled the situation in the school. Pupils were sent home at once. One child was sick at the time with meningitis, but even she was cared for and sent home none the worse for the trip. After all the children were sent home Mrs. Lim and her little family went to Amoy. She had to go empty-handed, for the police refused to allow any baggage to leave the city. As a result she lost all her possessions. Of course the school lost, too, for soldiers were stationed in the buildings. As soon as the Reds left Mrs. Lim returned. She went all over the city searching for school furniture, and when she told the people how badly the things were needed and how the school tried to serve the city and the country many people gladly returned what they had taken. In this way Mrs. Lim saved the school many dollars.

This fall school opened again with fewer pupils than last year, for the farther-away girls did not dare come. However, there were 130. The same staff of teachers was engaged; so the spirit of the school was as last term—excellent. Bible classes were held as formerly; only the classes met in the Missionary residence, as the school is registered. Chapel exercises are held in the church right next door to the school.

The school has a fine reputation and is considered by the authorities to rank first in the city. Because the school is so highly thought of in the city friends were willing to contribute to a subscription fund to help re-furnish. Over $300 Mex. was contributed. The school closed the year with a deficit of only $120, for which, of course, the School Board is responsible. Many repairs must yet be made and much new furniture bought, and the special grant from home will carry the school over this great emergency. So allow me on behalf of Mrs. Lim and the Girls' School Board to thank the Home Board for their special grant to help cover losses due to the Red Invasion. With conditions such as they are at home we realize this extra amount comes as a real gift of love.

Women's School.—During the year 1932 only $40 of Board money was spent by the Chang-chow Women's school. The rest was raised on the field. That means the boarding department was self-supporting. The first term fifteen women attended. Of these three-fifths were boarding pupils. The rule of our school is: Each pupil must pay for her own food or, as the Chinese express it,—“eat herself.” The Mission hires the teachers and pays all other expenses. School was proceeding nicely when, in April, the Reds came. The women returned to their homes. It took one young girl over two months to arrive. She started out for Siokhe by boat, planning to walk the next thirty miles to her home, but the boat-people had to sink their boat to save it from the Reds and then they fled into hiding, taking Siu-kheng with them. They treated her as their own daughter and no harm came to her, but we were very anxious for her safety.

Of this last term the less said the better. The teacher, Miss Jin, resigned to work in Amoy. The soldiers refused to vacate our school before November. The women in the country did not feel conditions were safe enough to come. The city women had no money to spend for such luxury as schooling. All the money the school had was spent in buying new desks, chairs, kitchen utensils, etc., etc., for every thing had been taken. The lower floor had been used for stables; so the whole place had to be white-washed and disinfected. Our five applicants dwindled down to three, and they, finally, decided to wait till after Chinese new year.

This is not a glowing report. We have done the best we could and the school needs your prayers.

ELIZABETH G. BRUCE

SIOKHE*Work for Women and Girls

A year ago the Siokhe work reminded one of a garden where the beds were in order and the small plants just coming up full of promise, a delight to the eye and heart but with nothing yet ready to gather. For two months after Chinese New Year we carried on work much as we had planned at the end of 1931. Then suddenly, instead of warm sunshine and gentle rain for our garden, we met typhoon and flood, terror and flight. That all the gardeners have themselves returned safely, and that the damage has been repaired as far as possible,—certainly these are matters for thanksgiving. And though we can report very little growth in visible results, we are still convinced that God is working in Siokhe, and that what has come to us will surely work out to the setting up of His Kingdom. It may be that we needed to change our ways of working even more in order to be effective in these new times, and that nothing short of this apparent disaster would make us realize the presence and power and upholding of our Father and keep us sensitive to His guidance.

Picture us, then, at the beginning of 1932, opening a school for upper primary girls in the building formerly used as Girls' School. Mrs. Chang, formerly head teacher, was now director of the Religious Centre, teaching Bible to the girls as well. In addition we had one woman teacher and part time from one of the Boys' School teachers. Mrs. Rain was still matron. There were three women living at the Centre and numerous others were being reached in the evening classes and in house visitation. The children's meetings and the Children's Sunday School were being held each week as usual. One children's group had adopted a session of games and songs, instead of the weekly learning of hymns and Bible stories, to see if that would help the members of the group to be fair and truthful and loving in their dealings with each other, instead of merely singing about such virtues. The matron and one teacher visited all the families of the Sunday School children and compiled a list of the names and birthdays of all children under four years of age, to be used as the basis of our Cradle Roll. The little cowherds still appeared daily at the school gate and put in some two hours of eager study. The church women's preaching group was going each Monday to one village or another, and the "intensive group" put in twelve consecutive Wednesday afternoons at one village. One Bible Woman was still in Lam-sin, another was about to return to school for another year of study, and the third had just gone to Ay-chay (E-chè) for a month of work there. From the near-by villages some two or three women who could not leave home long enough to live in the school thought they could come up each day with the cowherds. We charge no fees for such attendance and they figured that they could afford a few cents for books and extra shoe soles. Evening classes had begun well, and altogether it looked as though we had an unobstructed path. But—

The story of the Red Raid has been told from many angles. For us in Siokhe it meant that foreigners and some Chinese fled to Amoy, while all others who could escaped to neighboring villages or camped among the hills. Work in schools and villages could not be resumed for months. Communists were in control in Siokhe between twenty and thirty days. The people went in fear of torture and death, and the fears of some were realized. After the Communists left, the school matron came back to Siokhe, cleaned up the school premises somewhat and recovered some of the school equipment. Then came the "white soldiers," as local troops are called, and again these occupied schools and houses as best suited them, helping themselves as they saw fit. They, too, left behind them indescribable filth and disorder. In September cleaning and repairing were once more the order of the day.

By November the building and staff were again ready for regular work, and we have had four pupils in the upper primary and five in the Woman's School (This latter name is misleading, as the pupils' ages are 10, 11, 12, 14 and 26! Any girl who is not able to stay long enough to make the regular primary course profitable for her is put into the woman's department). We have continued home visiting, and the church women have resumed their weekly preaching. Plans are afoot for evening classes and children's meetings,—in fact, for all the old ways of service. The greatest change is coming (we think!) in the school. Those who were elected to act as School Board for the Siokhe Boys' and Girls' Primary Schools find themselves unable at present to undertake the responsibility. It is not only that they have been reduced financially, but they have been mentally stunned by the year's experiences and it will take some time for them to face the future and its new demands. In the meantime we propose to carry on as best we may, but always with the ideal that it is our responsibility and our privilege to help fit the women and children of Siokhe for a life as full as possible of love and joy and training in the service of Jesus Christ. From present indications it is quite probable that this will change our present school into a place where girls and women will learn rather less of regular school books, but more of home making, child care and other subjects that will train them for Christian life and service in their own homes and communities,—“that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly.” (MRS. H. J.) MARY W. S. VOSKUL

TONG-AN

Evangelistic Work

The opportunities for work among the women in the villages is just as great as ever. We always find a welcome and are generally urged to come back. How our hearts ache when we see the need but are handicapped because of lack of workers. We have not had a worker to take the place of Miss Zwemer, who left three years ago.

Because of unsettled conditions we were not able to get to all the mountain stations, but in the spring a week of special meetings was held at the nearest place, Chhoa-Chhu-Che. From Friday to Wednesday preceding Easter was the time set for this visit. The Bible Woman went with me. Each day we went with the Preacher of the church to a different section, visiting the homes of the church people and inviting their neighbors to come to one Christian home, centrally located, where we held an evangelistic service in the afternoon. The closing day we invited the women to an all-day service in the church. As the mountain villages are far apart, it meant that many had to walk three or four miles, and when we saw the large number who attended we realized how much they appreciated those meetings. In preparing the program we kept Passion Week in mind. At the morning service two talks were given: one on the reason why Jesus came to this world, touching briefly on His life up to the Passion Week; the other on Christ's sufferings in Gethsemane. In the afternoon the topics were the Crucifixion, and the Resurrection. As the auto road makes it easier now to get into the mountain district, it was possible the last day for Mrs. Koeppel to come and help us, which was greatly appreciated.

On Good Friday a United Prayer Meeting of the women of Tong-an was held in the Tong-an church. The whole service was in keeping with the day. It was a joy to see the wife of our hospital preacher, a young woman, lead the meeting in a quiet attitude which gave solemnity and reverence to the entire service.

In April, just before we evacuated, in fact only three days before we left, we had opened work at a new place, Ang-tng, about four miles from Tong-an. As soon as the Bible Women were able to get back they visited the homes, and in the fall we started the weekly Friday meetings. At first we had all the people at the one gospel service. Later, as the number of children increased, we thought it best to divide the group. Having a children's service separate from the grown folk has tended to increase our numbers. The women take care of the children's service while the men of our evangelistic party are responsible for the main meeting. We are hoping in the new year to use better methods that will help the children learn more songs and grasp more easily the Bible stories.

The Saturday children's meeting that is held in one of our Christian homes is still progressing. After a lapse of a year and a half because of furlough, we started the meeting in February only to drop it in April because of evacuation. The children came daily to the house asking when we were going to resume. What a pleasure at our opening meeting in the Fall to find that so many remembered the songs we had taught them! It really is remarkable because we had stopped for such a long time and none of these children go to church. One week we had a little competition from a neighboring house where they were preparing to send a bride to her new home. Some of the children went to "look-see"; nothing is private or secret here. When we asked about the drop in attendance, one little chap said, "It is better to listen to the missionary than to see the bride." We felt we had one loyal supporter and undoubtedly many more who showed it by their presence even though they did not voice their sentiments. Our Christmas meeting was so large that although we had prepared extra gifts we still had only enough for half. Such a disappointment to all! We couldn't possibly give out anything. The following week we brought enough for all, each receiving a little cake and a bottle of candy. Happy voices resounded as they left the room that day.

In December a week of special meetings was held for the women of the church in Tong-an. The Chinese Church still has before it the Five Year Movement: first reviving the church and then increasing the membership. In line with this we felt the women needed a spiritual uplifting before we were able to call others. A Bible Woman who is employed by the Women's Domestic Missionary Society of South Fukien was invited to be the speaker. She had a Bible class in the forenoon and expounded the first eight chapters of Romans in such a beautiful way that all who heard will never forget. It was remarkable how she brought out the practical lessons from these deep spiritual truths. In the afternoon the talk was of the evangelistic or revival type, primarily for the church women. When we have had mountain-top experiences we are loath to come down into the valley; and so it was with the women. They wanted more. Many remarked that they had never understood so clearly what it meant to be saved. We are thankful to God that He used the Bible Woman to help them. At the last session she spoke of the work of the Women's Domestic Missionary Society and at the close there were a number who expressed a desire to join.

The Bible Women continue to visit the homes, trying to help the women of the church and bring the gospel tidings to those who have never heard. Once in two weeks we meet together for prayer and discuss plans for the work. On Monday afternoons we generally go to some of the more distant villages for evangelistic meetings; on Tuesday we visit the homes near by; Wednesday and Thursday prayer-meetings are held in the chapel and church; and Friday the special work at Ang-tng. The work of Bible Women is not easy. They need your prayers that they may be faithful and be used of God to bring souls into the Kingdom.

Daily as we come in contact with the women of our district whom we seek to help, we pray for power that we may know how to make His Love known to those who know Him not.

Educational Work

Tong-an Girls School.—With praise and thanksgiving we come to the close of the year. Our hearts are full of gratitude to God for the wonderful way He has led. As the year opened there were obstacles before us that seemed impossible to surmount. But with God all things are possible.

In the first term we had the difficult task of dismissing the Head Teacher, who had been with the school from its beginning, because she was unable to cope with the present-day situations. There was disharmony in the faculty, which had its bad effects upon the students.

Although the "Reds" did not reach Tong-an, still we had to evacuate. Never shall we forget those days of anxiety nor the last night before we evacuated when the girls were so confused and excited. We were thankful we could so quickly make arrangements for all the girls to reach home safely. After the district was more peaceful it was not deemed wise to re-open the school that term.

The fall term found us opening with an almost new staff of teachers. Our greatest joy has been in the fact that we have been so united. There has been a oneness of purpose which has helped the school immensely. The faculty has had many hard problems, many trials and discouragements, but these became lighter as we met each Wednesday afternoon unitedly bringing our petitions to Our Great Teacher, who has promised wisdom to those who ask.

This term we have united the Boys' and Girls' Schools for Sunday School. In previous years their Sunday Schools, which were held separately, were not very satisfactory. Our combined effort has proved successful. The classes were composed of girls and boys of the same grade. A Sunday School Teachers' meeting was held each week to discuss methods of teaching the lesson and make any special plans that would help to increase the interest. At the opening session we said that the offerings would be used to help poor children at Christmas. A week before Christmas a special offering was made. The children marched around the room singing "Take my silver and my gold," placing their gift on the plate at the front. The money was quickly counted. What exclamations of joy and surprise as they saw the coppers, twenty-cent pieces and dollars spread in piles across the platform! Adding this to our weekly offerings we had $20.00. The teachers never dreamed the pupils would give so much. We had also collected $10.00 from friends of the school to help swell the fund. Christmas afternoon ten poor children of the church were invited to come to the service and each was given material for a coat. The other guests were given bags of candy. The rest of the money was sent to the Slave Refuge in Kulangsu. All were happy that they had helped to make others happy. Our Sunday School isn't perfect. There are many things to strive for, but we feel thankful and encouraged by the results of this term's work. Over half of the school pupils attended church and Sunday School every week. Some missed one church service, and others missed one day. These three groups were given pictures as a reward for their earnest endeavor.

The School gave its Christmas entertainment on Christmas Eve to a packed house. First there was a praise service and then the Christmas story was dramatized. Even though the costumes—the wise men wearing bath-robcs—would have caused much delight to a home audience, still the play was carried on in very reverent manner. The teacher tried to impress upon the girls the sacredness of the play, and before they left the dormitory that evening she gathered them together for prayer, asking for help that all should be done to glorify God.

In the problems that are before us this year we need your prayers. We long to have our girls come to know the love of Jesus, so that when they leave us, whether they continue their studies in High School or go to their homes, they will have the desire to grow in the knowledge of Jesus. The teachers need a strong faith. We need to continue this splendid spirit of co-operation and unity among them. For these we again ask your prayers.

Tong-an Women's School.—Sometimes we give thanks for great blessings, sometimes for small ones, and at times for unusual ones. The last was the case in April when we were forced to evacuate and in a short time close our school. Our pupils were very few that term, only five, which had discouraged the teacher very much. How depressing it was as we went to visit prospective pupils, only to hear the same reason—"We have opium fields to care for." The Tong-an district never before planted so much opium as they did this spring. The valley was covered with white poppies. Beautiful to see, but when one thought of the evil, harm, misery and suffering that it would bring, the beauty vanished. Planting opium takes much care, and a great deal of the work is done by women and children. Consequently the women were not free to attend school. We felt badly about this, but when the time came to evacuate we were thankful there were only a few women, as we felt responsible for their reaching home safely.

The last term we had 14 women enrolled. Three left soon after we started, two because of illness and one, a girl who had never been away from home, because of homesickness. Before the term closed three more were called home because of family difficulties. The beginners made very good progress in learning to read. We had a class in memorizing Scripture; the beginners learned Ps. 121, the Beatitudes and 30 other Bible verses; the other class learned the Beatitudes, John 1:1-18, I Cor. 13, I John 4, Ps. 1 and 27. Sometimes it was hard for the older women to remember the verses without being prompted, but they didn't want to be behind the others.

Many of the pupils have had sad experiences. We pray that as they learn in our school of the Way of Salvation they will come to know how to cast all their cares on Him who cares for them.

Patience we need in leading these women, for some are stupid and it takes some time before they grasp the "Truths" we are trying to teach them; wisdom we need in order to make the "Truths" so simple that all will understand; and above all we need a close walk with our Lord in order that living examples of the "Truth" may be before them each day. Will you not pray for these women and for those who teach them?

Report for 1932

VELLORE

Evangelistic Work

The Hancock Memorial Social Center is the "Ashram" for Women. The name Ashram is a household word in the East and stands for a home of fellowship, prayer and peace. Of course we have not yet attained all that our name indicates, but there has been an honest attempt to attain unto the ideal. There have been rich experiences of friendship, keeping in touch with old friends and making new ones. Since January a dear Hindu sister has taken up her residence with us and we hope for many more of her type.

In July we opened our first class, which is to be the nucleus of our 8th Standard School, the dream of the future. Our classes for adults and girls who have finished the lower school are well attended. The fortnightly lectures and Mothers' Meetings command the interest of many. The Social Service work has reached out to touch many homes in the town.

Granite boulders are taking form under the master hand of the carver and soon will rise to honor the place of prayer, a lasting memorial to Miss Clara Tallman and the Nyack fellow-workers. The guest house for Hindu Indian friends is gradually coming into use. All our building operations have felt the tide of depression which has swept the world round.

As we face another round of service we reach out for the hand of the Friend of the Bethany Home and pray that He may be the Friend of our Ashram Home.

(MRS. HENRY) L. D. M. HONEGGER

Bible Women—When we go through the reports of our Bible Women who visit 300 Hindu and Mohammedan sisters in Vellore, we remember the parable of the leaven which our Lord used to illustrate the spreading of the Kingdom of Heaven. The Hindu sisters are impressed because they find something in Christianity which they do not find in their religion. The answers to their prayers create wonder and thankfulness in their hearts, and some are moved to bring offerings to our church.

MRS. LIZZIE PETER

Not until October, 1932, did we find the right woman to do Bible Woman's work in the two villages near the Union Mission Training School Compound at Viruthampet. I go with the Bible Woman every morning to visit the homes to try to see their needs and to decide where we should concentrate our efforts. In the afternoons others of our little group of teachers' wives take turns going with our Bible Woman. One result of our visits has been to swell the numbers who wait twice daily at my "dispensary" door. During the worst of the eye-fly season I had daily 30, 40, and one day 70 patients whom I treated successfully.

Three afternoons a week the Bible Woman visits in the homes of the very ignorant Christian women in the outcaste section of the villages. Very soon one could notice the difference in our church services and women's meetings, for the women began to join in repeating the Lord's Prayer and the Creed. She is trying now to teach them some hymns and to help them to establish family altars in their homes.

(MRS. MASON) ELEANOR G. OLCOTT

Hindu Girls' Schools—The two Hindu Girls' Schools of Vellore, (Arasamaram and Eddai Streets) have made a creditable record and the teachers have all shown keen interest in their work. During Education Week these schools along with the other schools of the town gave demonstrations of physical exercises, folk dancing and drills to music, making a favorable showing. Both schools exhibited well-made handwork done by the pupils, and the Arasamaram School was awarded a certificate for original ideas. The Sunday Schools conducted in the school buildings held a big Sunday School Rally, which is an annual affair of great interest.

KATPADI

Village Medical Work

Village medical work has been carried on in a number of villages, its aim having been rather to attack the conditions in the villages that cause disease than to treat those ill, although it is impossible not to do the latter as well as the former. In one village has come, as the result of teaching and demonstration, a desire for cleaner ways of living.

A summer school was conducted for wives of village catechists. The aim of the school was to help the catechists' wives to help their village women in their every day lives. The women were taught child-care, prenatal and postnatal, principles of hygiene, and what to do for better health in the village, also what to do to prevent some of the common diseases, and other things useful for their own lives and homes and those of their people. Most of the women were very much interested.

To improve our Christian villages in matters physical, economic, moral and spiritual is one of the largest jobs we have to do, for the villages are the foundation and structure of our Christian community.

CHITTOOR

Evangelistic Work

Bible Women—The Chittoor Bible Women have gone on with their patient, unostentatious work of bringing Christ through their lives and words to their Hindu friends. These women spent five days in a non-Christian village about 12 miles from Chittoor, and visited five other Hindu villages. They had meetings in the early mornings for the coolie women before they went to work and later visited the old women and those who could not leave their homes. Each evening they conducted a meeting for men and women, attended by quiet, interested audiences of 60 or more, some of whom came afterwards to ask questions about what they had heard.

Village Work—We are making a special effort to emphasize weekly meetings for women in the villages, and have had several meetings for the wives of village teachers and catechists, suggesting programs and urging them to start such meetings. In these days we need to become more and more "village conscious", to hear more clearly the "still sad music of humanity" in these out-of-the-way places where India's womanhood lives and tries to rear its babies and suffers in a physical and spiritual want almost impossible to realize. We cannot hope to reach the heart of India until we have brought Christ to these "the least and lowliest" of his children.

Gridley School—Gridley Hindu Girls' School is very happy this year in possessing new floors and an unbreakable roof. Mr. John is letting us have a wee spot for a school garden and a place for out-door games. We boast the finest Blue Bird Troop for miles, as Miss Simon, the leader, has taken special training for this work. Miss Thanamoney, the Superintendent of the Gridley Sunday School, reports an average attendance of between 60 and 70 who show a keen interest and appreciation of the Bible stories and songs. One little boy, after a lesson on giving, brought a little basket he had made himself with the top covered except for a slit, "so no one but Jesus will see what we bring Him, because He knows we bring all we can".

Educational Work

Sherman Memorial Girls' School—Ding, dong! It is seven o'clock on the Sherman liner. The officers have just lined up for an inspection of the passengers. After ten minutes of giving pluses and minuses for clean and dirty cabins, the captain gives the signal for the prayer gong to sound. For ten minutes all is quiet aboard the liner while the crew and passengers thank God for His care of the ship and ask for His guidance in the day to come. Thus begins the day on board ship, and a busy day it always is.

Our vessel has had a rather comfortable journey this year even though the bursar, like others in the same capacity at home and abroad, has had to keep a careful eye on the budget. Several new Hindu and Mohammedan passengers have been taken aboard, thanks to the friendly relations which our former captain, Miss Van Doren, had with our town friends. It was with sincere regret that we said "Adieu" to our beloved captain as she set off to other parts for service to all of India. She brought our craft into being and she has stood firmly at her post through many a storm.

In April when we had our Class Day exercises, it was a joy to lower the gangplank and allow our former passengers to come aboard for a short stay. They told us many interesting tales of their work as doctors, nurses, teachers, and homemakers. Some of this year's class are busily engaged in further study at college, training schools, and medical schools, and some have already set forth into the workaday world of teaching.

In August we had the privilege of entertaining His Excellency, the Governor of Madras. Early in September we were happy to welcome back Miss Wyckoff, who is our captain now that Miss Van Doren has left us for a time. One of the chief essentials to a safe voyage is absolute co-operation between the crew and the captain, and because of the truly loving and sisterly spirit of both our former and our present captains, there has been an atmosphere of love and real Christian fellowship among the staff. No task has been too hard for the crew, who give themselves in loving service for the passengers.

The passengers too, have a chance to give true and loving service for others. On Sundays many of the older ones go to neighbouring villages to tell Bible stories and help these brothers and sisters of theirs to live a better life. Others are busily engaged in preparing little story books and school materials which will be given to a few village schools at Christmas, and thus we hope that when we lower our gangplank at Christmas time to allow our passengers to go home for the holidays they will carry with them the true spirit of Service, believing that "Christmas is for Giving and not for Getting."

DORIS A. WELLS

Beattie Memorial Training and Model School—We had hoped to build an addition to our training hostel, but with the loss of all Government building grant we have had to wait. Our ranks are now filled with new candidates and every nook and corner is filled. Our Model School children are as sweet and as lively as ever. They are an active group who keep us all on our tiptoe, and they are so responsive it is a joy to work with them.

The Senior Christian Endeavor have been busy with a new project. They have started a meeting with the little ones who could not attend the Junior Christian Endeavor. Our school drama was a great success and enabled the children to give their contribution to the Centenary Fund as well as to buy new books for our library. In their Sunday School classes the children have been making pictures and calendars and other useful things for the village schools to use. As we work and play together we try to bring to the children and students a greater vision for service and an appreciation of God's blessings.

MADANAPALLE

Evangelistic Work

Bible Women's Work—A little survey of the conditions in the homes of the 320 pupils visited by our six Bible Women has produced the following figures:—16% of the homes have a fair amount of light and air; in 35% of them improvements in cleanliness and surroundings are apparent; 15% of the women can read; and about 20% of them can sew a little. Of the babies born in these homes last year, 27% of those whose mothers were attended by native midwives have died, while of those whose mothers were attended by trained nurses only 10% have died. The Bible Women are most welcome in times of illness and in other times of trouble, when the Hindu women call them in to share their anxieties, asking for their prayers, always sure of sympathy.

To get better acquainted with village life, especially the Christian villages, monthly visits have been made to one of our centers, staying a week at a time. The women who have attended the Summer Schools in Madanapalle are most friendly. Some of them have started small gardens near their houses, using seeds given them at the Summer School.

SARELLA TEWINKEL

Educational Work

Girls' Secondary School—I have asked my assistant, Miss Chanda Royal, to report what she thought were the outstanding things of interest. "We began the year 1932 with renewed joy and desire for efficient work, which I am sure has inspired the staff and pupils, as the Inspectress gave us a good report using these words: 'The institution is doing very creditable work.' There has been no great change in the staff. We are doing good work in Physical Education, and have fitted the dormitory as a gymnasium with cross-bars and rings. A set of swings has been set up, and the children love to swing."

"We are proud of our Girl Guide Company, which for the second time has won the district shield in competition with Chittoor and Palmaner. Both the Ranger and Bluebird Companies are as enthusiastic as ever. The Rangers have won badges in Child Care and Sick Nursing and have passed other helpful tests. The varied vocational work, such as handwork, sewing, gardening, spinning, basket-making and poultry-keeping, is progressing excellently."

"After visiting our School, His Excellency, the Governor of Madras, wrote: 'Much loving care is given to the children; they are all evidently ideally happy and that can only be the result of the attention they receive.'"

"We hope to be able to do better and worthier work the succeeding year. With grateful hearts we thank all those who have helped to make this year so good."

I would add just a word to say that we have 71 girls in the Boarding Home and the girls have taken a keener interest in the Christian Endeavor Societies than usual. My heart is full of gratitude to all the Christian friends in America, to the doctors and nurses of Mary Lott Lyles Hospital and to my loyal staff of teachers and hostel staff for their splendid co-operation and love.

CLARA M. COBURN

Medical Work

Mary Lott Lyles Hospital—By October, 1931, the dismantling of the Hospital for the repairs to be undertaken was well under way, and from that time until August, 1932, we carried on the medical work in the Hospital under great difficulties. Such noise and confusion as was made by the workmen, to say nothing of the debris! But in spite of it all we sometimes had as many as fifty patients.

In August, His Excellency, the Governor of Madras, visited our institution. He was much interested in the mosquito-proof rooms, and also in the very much improved conditions made for the nurses and the patients by the addition of the splendid Nurses' Home, and now by the remodeled Hospital. Later we had a formal Thanksgiving service in recognition of the improvement of our buildings. At this service all those who had helped to make improvements possible were specially remembered. We rejoice in the open air wards on our widened verandas, in our sanitary flushing system, in the new electric lights, and in the added rooms made possible by remodeling the part in which the nurses formerly lived.

The large Christian community in this area are more and more appreciative of the advantages to be had by coming to the Hospital when ill, so that 32% of our in-patients are now from the poor Christian villages. They are too poor to pay for their treatment and, usually, the poorer they are the longer their stay among us and the greater their need. When strong enough they have daily instruction in the Word, for we believe that the great need in our Indian Christian Church is a deepening of the Christian experience, a deeper sense of sin, and a greater personal experience of God's forgiveness, love and mercy.

There is another large percentage of poor Hindus and Mohammedans who come to us for help. Then there is about 18% able to pay our small Hospital charges, but not even 1% able to pay proper medical or surgical fees. We love this work for our very poor people and we groan when we remember that self-support is urged upon us. If we are to take in as many patients as we can accommodate (between 60 and 70 patients) our income, from whatever source, must be greatly increased. We pray for light and guidance on this very important question, for we must be ready to take in all who come to us and do for them, whether they can pay or not. As we work with and for them, we pray that we may be kept pure and meet for His service, and that they may be led into the Way, the Truth and the Life.

LOUISA H. HART, M.D.

Nurses' Training—Our Nurses' graduating class this year boasts but one graduate, and there were four Juniors for the Second Year examination. All passed well in the practical work, the Senior gaining 91%. Much of our teaching is now in English as it is best for the nurses to know as much English as possible when they finish. They are then eligible for Government Hospitals, Social Centres, etc. Since nurses are often in greater demand and at a better salary than teachers even, people are more willing that their daughters enter this profession, and the girls themselves are more eager to take it up also, but we could take but five new probationers this year. It has been splendid for the nurses to have Miss Brumler give them so much careful supervision in the practical part of the work while I could also do more in the theoretical part. It must be here a little and there a little, day by day, over and over again.

Our maternity work has been better again this year. We have had six pairs of twins! Our two upstairs rooms with European accommodations have been quite in demand since they were finished. One of our nurses who took a Bible course has returned to us and does personal work among the patients. Every evening she and the other nurses conduct prayers in one of the wards of the Hospital. Two or three of our hospital workers with one or two of the zenana workers have visited four villages every week, going once a month to each village.

JOSEPHINE TEWINKEL

PUNGANUR

Evangelistic Work

Bible Women's Work—The experiment tried last year of putting experienced Bible Women to work solely for Christian women in our villages has been greatly blessed. In one place the work of the Bible Woman has borne fruit in the baptism of three young women. The usual Mothers' Meetings and lectures by outside visitors have been held. Our Hindu Girls' School is a center for all women's activities and amusements in the town.

The Bible Women go in and out among the homes of the better classes and are always welcomed.

Many pleasant trips to near-by villages have been taken by Bible Women and Teachers, thus visiting most of the places within five miles of Punganur. Friendly parties at the Mission Bungalow have brought together Hindu and Christian women. The Christian workers of Punganur meet often for prayer together, and we realize that we are not working alone but that the Holy Spirit is taking control and that He will, in His good time, bring forth the fruits we long for.

Hindu Girls' School—In April, 1932, on the occasion of the Forty-third Anniversary of the Punganur Hindu Girls' School, we had the joy of opening the new school playground. Money for this was sent out by the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions several years ago, but there was great difficulty in getting the land. It is desired that all young women of Punganur shall feel free to use this playground, and as much privacy as possible has been attained by a high wall. The school girls play every day after school and during recess time. The enrollment of the school has increased to 140, with seven classes. The annual inspection of the school brought out an excellent report, and when the highest official paid a visit unexpectedly, she wrote, "It is one of the best schools of its grade in my Circle."

(MRS. HENRY J.) MARGARET B. SCUDDER

PALMANER

Educational Work

The Women's Industrial School—It is not an easy thing to get pupils to work for the joy of working; but such is our aim. Jesus, the Carpenter, is our inspiration in the early morning watch and through the daily routine of work: caring for the silk worms, reeling the thread; preparing the soil, sowing the seed, weeding and watering the gardens; drawing water for the daily baths, caring for the sick, scrubbing and cleaning the cottage and courtyard and drains; learning to cut patterns and make clothes, and how to teach this to others; taking care of the goats and chickens and oxen; embroidering the beautiful cross-stitch patterns on linens, whereby to earn a living; learning to read and write and keep accounts, studying the daily Bible lesson and methods of Christian uplift; cooking the daily food, and tending the flowers at the cottage door-step. There is a song and prayer at midday, and at eventide, when the day's work is done. So the day goes for the little family of nine girls in each of the ten cottages.

MARY E. GEEGH

RANIPET

Evangelistic Work

Bible Women's Work and Hindu Girls' Schools—There has been co-operation on the part of all the workers and a friendly atmosphere in all homes visited. We have been surprised at the large crowds that have gathered in the Hindu homes, all eager to hear the Gospel message. Mrs. William, the Indian Supervisor of the Ranipet Bible Women, says that there are many secret followers of the Saviour in Ranipet. One old woman makes this confession—"I heard of Jesus Christ through a Bible Woman when I was young, and I believed in Him, and ever since I have not fasted or worshiped idols. The only God I worship is Jesus Christ."

Arcot and Kaveripak Hindu Girls' Schools have carried on with the routine work, plus Mothers' Meetings and Sunday School classes.

(MRS. H. E.) NELLIE VAN VRANKEN

Central Hindu Girls' School—Our beloved Master has been our Teacher, Guide and Advisor in our year's work and He has blessed us abundantly. We had three special weeks during the year. First, "The Children's Week," when we attempted to impart to our school children some knowledge of the children of other lands. They prayed for them that they all might go to school in order to enjoy their childhood and be helpful to their countries. Second, "The Mother's Week" when the children invited their mothers, grandmothers, aunts and cousins to see the school and to listen to the lectures in the Social Center adjoining the school. During this week the teachers also visited the Hindu homes and gave the Gospel message to the women and children otherwise unreached. Third, "The Temperance Week" when all classes had lessons on the evils of drink, and the bad habits of men and women of our country which reduce them to poverty. It is sad to think that even little children are slaves to such habits. The only remedy is to know Jesus Christ and His love. We hope these children will grow up to a high standard of womanhood and be a help to our future India.

MRS. D. PAKYANADAN

Christian Social Center—Through the year we had religious and health lectures in the Social Center for the women of the town. All were well attended and the classes have grown this year. Many women come to get help with sewing and remain for the Hygiene and Scripture classes. The young women speak freely about their family customs and the superstitions of their religion and the truth and comfort they find in Christ. We are visiting Mohammedan houses regularly as well as high caste Hindu houses. The women show a great desire to learn Tamil and arithmetic; so when I visit them I tell them stories from the New Testament and in this way teach them Tamil.

Weekly Bible classes have been held for the uneducated Christian women in different centers about Ranipet. Week-end camps are desired by the villagers, and we also feel they help us to know the people and their needs.

We have continued our visits to the Hospital to speak words of cheer and to tell of God's love for all.

MRS. ARPUTHAM WILLIAM

Educational Work

Higher Elementary Girls' Boarding School—We have striven for growth in our school, mental, physical and spiritual growth, for the promoting of the finest type of Indian girlhood. The mental side of the girls' growth has been well taken care of by our staff of well-trained teachers, whose willingness to follow all suggestions has aided greatly in carrying out our aim.

Drills and games during school hours, supervised play every evening, work in the garden and with the poultry, wholesome food, plenty of rest and sleep, and the nearness of medical assistance keep the bodies of our girls in almost perfect health.

Participation in studies, duties, play, Blue Bird and Guide Companies, our literary society, Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor, evangelistic work meetings, chapel services, Sunday School, our system of self government, the daily contact with upright Christian women, all contribute to the spiritual growth of the girls.

(MRS. GALEN F.) MAUDE S. SCUDDER

ARNI

Evangelistic Work

Bible Women—Five Bible Women, visiting regularly, 116 homes in Arni, report a keen interest in the lessons, a deeper faith in prayer, and quite a number professing secretly their faith in the one true God and in Jesus Christ as the only Saviour.

Since July first one of the town workers was transferred to village work. There she has regular lessons with ignorant Christian women and also for some not yet Christians. Since beginning this work ten women and men are asking to be baptized.

In Wandiwash the Bible Woman's work is progressing. Mrs. Lazarus is well received and gives regular instruction in 24 homes. Her pupils ask intelligent questions, showing that they are thinking about what she teaches them.

Hindu Girls' Schools—In the two schools of Arni town the Headmasters have been replaced with trained Headmistresses of a higher grade. Heretofore the girls left school after finishing the 5th class. We feel confident that with Headmistresses instead of Headmasters these schools will have a larger influence among the girls and young women they desire to serve in Arni.

(MRS. W. H.) ELIZABETH W. FARRAR

TINDIVANAM

Evangelistic Work

Bible Women—During the absence of Mrs. Walter T. Scudder her husband has kept an eye on the work of the Bible Women, meeting with them every Monday morning to discuss their problems and plans and to study the Bible and pray. When visiting Tindivanam, Miss J. C. Scudder kindly conducted a number of meetings for the Christian women in the station, besides visiting several Hindu and Mohammedan homes with the Bible Women.

Hindu Girls' School—The Hindu Girls' School has had another successful year. An interesting development is that seven girls have asked for transfer certificates to the High School. Four years ago a citizen of Tindivanam withdrew his daughter from our Girls' School because he objected to her studying the Bible. Only recently he brought the girl back, asking to have her re-admitted, with no objection to Bible instruction. The School is being used more and more as a central meeting place.

UNION INSTITUTIONS

Missionary Medical School for Women, Vellore

Dr. Ida S. Scudder reports that the realization of the dreams of many years has come to pass and they have moved out to their new site, College Hill, with its magnificent collection of new buildings, where their work must needs greatly expand. The beautiful Weyerhauser Chapel was dedicated on August 7th, and the door of the whole group of college buildings was opened by His Excellency, Sir George Stanley, Governor of Madras, on December 2nd. Both occasions were unusually impressive and the ceremonies very beautiful.

Three of the students are Arcot Assembly girls. There has been a steady increase in the Hospital work, and more research has been done than ever before. The work on the five roadsides has greatly increased. In the Nursing Department the entire higher grade class has been sent up for examinations.

Women's Christian College, Madras

Since it began seventeen years ago, its nearly 500 alumnae, of whom 275 have gone out from its doors with University degrees, are making their constructive contribution to the united effort of the educated Christian women of India for their less fortunate sisters. As mothers, teachers, doctors, social workers, citizens in many scattered sections of India and Ceylon, they loyally exemplify their college motto, "Lighted to lighten."

St. Christopher's Training College, Madras

Two students in the L. T. class are Arcot Assembly girls and ten Sherman High School graduates are now in training in the secondary class. Of our five girls who finished secondary training there last April, three are teaching in our Assembly schools, one is doing private tutoring in Madanapalle, and one is teaching in Madras.

Report for 1932

TOKYO

Evangelistic Work

During the past year I have identified myself very closely with the Gotenyama church. Acting as president of the Women's Society (at their request) I have made arrangements for the monthly meetings, which we believe have been a definite factor in promoting the spiritual life of the women. Calling on the women in their homes has brought me very near to them and enabled me to understand better how much courage and love it takes for them to retain a warm Christian faith when their husbands are indifferent, even though not actively hostile, to Christianity.

In February the World Day of Prayer was observed by a union meeting of the Christian women of the city, at which over 250 were present, including a good representation from our society.

As organist of the church my work has been especially pleasant because of the enthusiastic way in which the church members are using the new union hymnal which was issued recently. Each Sunday sees at least one new hymn sung, and thus religious musical education is being widened. One young man told me, "The hymns mean more to me than any other part of the church service."

Besides this work in the church, with those who are definitely Christians or inquirers, there has been much quiet seed-sowing and indirect missionary work, chiefly in our own home. Mr. and Mrs. Luben, who are making their home with us this year, are giving themselves freely to the students of Meiji College and are exerting a strong Christian influence. Each week a group of their students comes for fellowship and friendly intercourse, as well as practice in English.

There are many individual callers also. Many come to consult Mr. Stegeman about school or evangelistic problems. A young man of my last year's Bible class came for friendly encouragement, as he is now in a large university where the temptations to loose living are very strong. A prospective bridegroom came with a request that I play the wedding march at the approaching ceremony. After consenting to do so, I sent him away with a word of counsel about the importance of Christian family worship in the new home he was about to establish. So they come and go—between eighty and one hundred Japanese entering our home each month—and we are grateful for the richness of a religion which is adapted to their varying needs.

(MRS. H. V. E.) GERTRUDE H. STEGEMAN

Our Street Sunday Schools have been maintained with good attendance. The public school system in Japan makes many demands upon the after-school hours of the children. There are various school duties to be performed. For instance, each child takes his turn to help clean up the room after school is out. Then there are always excursions, athletic meets and programs going on. These hinder the attendance of Sunday School children all over the land. However, there are children enough who are eager to hear the lesson story. One of the Sunday Schools, which meets in a Japanese home that lends us a small eight-mat room, grew too limited in space for our numbers. When we told the woman whose home it is that we were thinking of moving, she said, "No, I wish you would stay, for the influence of the Sunday School is very good for the children of the neighborhood. They are much better children now; so I wish you would stay." So we compromised and left the smaller children there and took the older ones to another home near by. In the older group we can meet without an accompaniment of hot sweet potato, sticky candy and cakes clenched in little fists and popped into little mouths. The older group are of course above such things.

The Settlement Sunday School has been a great success in numbers. The children are poor and bad-mannered, but the teachers have been splendid in bringing order out of chaos. Among these children a group of older girls gather from week to week and are taught sewing, knitting and so forth, things they love to do. We have been teaching them hymns and Bible lessons. These youthful minds eagerly drink in all that is given them. Christmas at the Settlement was a happy event, with about a hundred children gathered together, glad to sing the joyous songs and to receive the simple gifts.

The distribution of Christian literature has been carried on weekly as before. In two hospitals we give out these tracts to the sick and to the nurses. Some of the patients are in the hospital for a long time; so we have the chance to give them a good deal of reading matter. We pray that this may be the means of leading them to find Christ.

An English Bible Class has been carried on with girls from a private school. These girls mostly come from homes non-Christian. Through this and other contacts with Christianity they are being drawn into the little church which has been erected in this Tokyo suburb. Some of them have been baptized and have joined the church. It is not so hard for the girls to keep up their church attendance and their interest while they are school girls. However, the Japanese custom is such that after school years are over, a girl is expected to make the home the center and greatest interest in her life. First she is expected to learn all the domestic arts and give her time entirely to them. Many times the new wife is not at all free to do as she chooses about leaving her home. Therefore, many of our school girls who become Christians during school years seem to lapse and to forget their church life during their later years. However, I am sure that in numerous cases of this sort the wife and mother is truly a Christian. Very often she tries to teach her children and sends them to Sunday School if possible.

The Weekly Meeting with the Leper Women at the hospital is always an inspiration. These women are mostly Christian, though new ones, non-Christian, are always entering the institution and gradually come to our meetings. We have been having consecutive Bible lessons with them. They all seem eager to learn more of the Bible. With true Japanese feminine reticence they are shy about asking questions. A newly compiled Christian hymnal has recently been published in Japan. Everywhere, churches and Christian groups are learning the new songs in this book. Of course, many of the old ones have been retained but some have new tunes replacing the old ones. The leper women have been studying the new hymnal and learning some of the new songs.

EVELYN OLTMAINS

The Woman's Christian College

May I add just a word as your representative on the Board of Trustees of the Woman's Christian College. We were sorry to lose Miss Alice Dorothy Buchanan as our faculty member there, for she had done very acceptable work and endeared herself to all by her friendly spirit. We are glad to note the high scholastic standing maintained at the College through the strenuous efforts of President Yasui. She has been ill during the year, but has resumed her work again, and we hope will carry on at least until spring, when the College will celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of its founding. The next most imperative need for the College is a larger endowment with which to meet government requirements.

(MRS. H. V. E.) GERTRUDE H. STEGEMAN

YOKOHAMA

Ferris Seminary

Report for 1932—We were glad to welcome Dr. Shafer back on the 14th of November, after an absence of a year and a half. It is a matter of great thanksgiving that he was wonderfully protected and preserved during the past year while he was so strenuously occupied with the Centenary of the Board and during his long journey back to Japan.

We are also very thankful that the Lord watched over the school during the Principal's absence and gave unity and earnestness to the members of the faculty in the effort to attain the goal at which we are aiming.

On the return of Dr. Shafer, Miss Hayashi was elected Vice-Principal of the school. It has also been arranged for her to have one day a week free for special evangelistic work among students and graduates.

We regret to report the death of two teachers. Mr. Ikeda had been ill since December, 1930. He came to the school immediately after the earthquake and contributed a great deal toward the plans for the reconstruction of the school. He was a fine Christian man and will be greatly missed in the life of the school. Mr. Akiba died suddenly in October. He was a former teacher in a Bible school of the Presbyterian Mission and had a wide circle of friends.

Three new men joined the staff during the year. They are all active Christians and all have had Imperial University training.

Seventy-six students were graduated in March, seventy-one from the High School Department and five from the Domestic Science Department of the Junior College. Out of the seventy-one from the High School sixteen entered the Junior College Department.

There was an increase of sixty-one over last year in the number of applicants for entrance to the High School Department, 283 in all. At the beginning of the new school year the total enrollment was 442, with 42 of these in the Junior College. At the end of December the total enrollment was 436, with 38 in the Junior College Department.

Parents' meetings were held by classes during the year. Six such meetings were held. The subjects discussed were different for the different classes, but in each case the spirit and aims of the school were again explained and the parents were urged to take a sympathetic attitude toward any decision to accept Christ on the part of their daughters.

The Ferris Association, the parents' organization, held two general meetings. The association has helped the school in various ways during the year. They continue to subscribe for five magazines for the library. They also purchased a magazine and newspaper rack, an office desk, a filing cabinet, ten book supports, guide and catalogue cards for the library and a sewing-machine for the domestic science department. They also contribute toward the publication of the monthly school paper.

The annual meeting of the Alumnae Association was held the first of June. The school and the graduates joined on that day in commemorating the Centenary of the Board of Foreign Missions. Dr. Oltmans represented the Mission and gave an address. A member of the student body and a representative of the graduates expressed their appreciation to the Board of Foreign Missions for what has been done for the school. As a material expression of that heartfelt gratitude the school and the alumnae together sent $75 to the Centenary Fund.

Miss Tase, who graduated from Wisconsin University in June, came back to Japan in August. Her sister is now in Hope College specializing in music. Miss Sodeyama finished her college course at Central College and is now working for the City of Osaka in settlement work. She is very happy in her new work.

Miss Hayashi spent part of her summer vacation visiting graduates in the northern districts of Japan. Some of them she had not seen for sixteen or seventeen years. Some of them she had been concerned about, since she had not received even New Year greetings from them, but on visiting them her anxiety was entirely removed. She found them carrying out the Ferris ideals in their lives, some as teachers and some in the home.

The Y.W.C.A. is continuing its activities, holding religious meetings weekly. As part of its work the society sells lunches and school materials. It also conducts two Sunday Schools for children from outside the school. This work is under the supervision of Miss Zander.

One of the girls in the graduating class of the High School was baptized a few weeks ago. Her parents are not Christians, but they were very much pleased that their daughter had made this decision and in commemoration of her baptism they made a contribution to the school of fifty beautiful pictures of the life of the Emperor Meiji. This girl was baptized at the Kamakura Church. Mrs. Ukai, the pastor's wife and a graduate of our school, writes that a lady who was present at this ceremony had already made up her mind to send her daughter to a Government school, but the importance of Christian education for a young girl was so deeply impressed upon her mind that day that she made up her mind to send her daughter to Ferris.

The students made contributions toward the summer camps of three settlements; three cart-loads of old clothing were sent to poor of the city; and two boxfuls of New Year cakes were sent to a local settlement for distribution among the poor. Four girls helped in Daily Vacation Bible Schools during the summer.

The way is long and seems dark at times and often we wonder if we are on the right trail. But the Lord has bidden us, "Be strong and of good courage," and has said, "I will be with thee; I will neither fail nor forsake thee." It is ours to follow and do His bidding, resting on the assurance of His unchanging promises. He will appoint whom He will for the task of sheaves-gathering. It is our privilege to have a hand in planting, which is equally important, for there can be no harvest without the seed-sowing.

SADA HAYASHI, Acting Principal

Christian Activities at Ferris Seminary—The weekly Y.W.C.A. meetings have been carried on with class groups and general meetings alternating. The meetings are varied by praise services, social meetings, and farewell and welcome meetings to graduating and entering classes. Among our speakers we were glad to include Mr. Gedat who represents the Y.M.C.A. work in Germany and, on the occasion of his visit to Japan, the Y.W.C.A. also. Another speaker was Miss Uchida of the Yokohama Y.W.C.A. As Miss Uchida is one of our own graduates who has returned recently from a two years' period of study in the United States, we were especially glad to have her with us to give some of her impressions of the young people in America. Other speakers included local pastors of churches to which our pupils belong. One of the last speakers was Dr. Shafer, full of interesting experiences of his sojourn in America and his trip through Europe. We think that these speakers have helped our pupils to realize that we are of one great family.

In the summer eleven girls accompanied by one teacher represented our school at the Gotemba Summer Conference for Christian School girls. In the fall these girls brought back enthusiastic accounts of their summer camp.

During the year there were twelve baptisms among the pupils. One of the teachers also received baptism, Mrs. Taki, the sewing teacher. We all rejoiced that she had found Christ by being at Ferris Seminary. We hope that it will bring great joy and abundant blessings to her life. There are, as always, some pupils who are anxious and ready to receive baptism but who are prevented by their relatives. We pray that a way may be found for these earnest young seekers after Christ. At baptism these girls join the local churches nearest their homes whether they be of the Church of Christ in Japan (our Presbyterian and Reformed Churches) or of some other denomination. Many of them take an active interest in church responsibilities such as being Sunday School teachers and playing the organ and leading in singing hymns in their churches. These arts they learn while at school with us.

The Sunday School at Ferris Seminary, conducted by Miss Hayashi with the help of three other teachers, has an average attendance of sixty girls. Some of them come from out of town, testifying to their interest in it. A group of older girls teach in the two Sunday Schools carried on by our school Y.W.C.A. Others have such tasks in their own churches. Even with these gratifying evidences of Church and Sunday School attendance, there are many to whom Sunday is only a holiday from school.

It is our earnest prayer that they, too, may find a deeper meaning in the use of the Sabbath.

In December the yearly campaign for Christmas contributions to the poor was begun. Some three hundred comfort bags were filled with food, clothing and reading matter and sent out. Also Yen 107 was collected as a White Christmas Gift and sent to various charities. We had one gratifying experience of a graduate of Ferris sending a contribution of five yen upon reading in the Ferris Magazine the announcement of our White Christmas money-raising for the poor. This was certainly a gift from a generous heart, as five yen bills are scarce during these "hard times." This was followed by a gift from another graduate.

As we look forward into the New Year we are filled with hope and assurance for the advancement of the Kingdom of God in this land, brought about in part through the efforts to advance His Name in the Christian Schools of Japan.

Sturges Seminary

If I were to tell about the things that take up the greatest number of the hours of our days, it would be a rather dull account of classes taught, papers corrected, etc., and it would not be telling you the things in which you and I are most interested. It is to the extra-curricular activities that we turn as special centers of interest. This for two reasons:—first, because these are the things that make one year stand out from another; second, because it is through many of these that our Christian purpose is expressed more openly.

The extra-curricular educational activities center around trips and visitors. The fifth year class took its big trip to Korea and Manchuria. Local trips to the School for the Blind, one of the primary schools, the Telephone Company, the Sanyo Hotel and the Government Steel Works at Yawata added to their understanding of things going on in the world about them. Among the visitors was an official who explained the workings of the jury system. Two of the aborigines of Formosa came to show the girls some of the tribal dances and explain their customs. Mrs. Hani, a famous modern Christian educator, the founder of a school that does not follow the government system, spoke to the girls. We have also had the privilege of two visitors famous in the Japanese musical world. Mr. Yamada, who is well known as a harmonizer of Japanese folk songs, spoke on learning to appreciate good music. Miss Miyagawa, who has had training in America and Paris, gave a special concert for school girls. Perhaps the most outstanding visitor was Mr. Gedat, a young man from Germany traveling in the interests of peace, good-will and understanding between people of different nations and races.

Athletics has received, perhaps, more than its share of attention, especially during the fall term when almost every week there was some match with outside schools. We hope that the interest aroused may in some way be used to bring the joy of competitive athletics to all the girls rather than just to picked teams.

The Alumnae received special attention this year through Mr. Hirotsu's trip to visit the graduates living in the main island and Hokkaido. Mr. Hirotsu, who, with Mr. Kuroki, knows perhaps more graduates than anyone else, wanted to take this trip this year while Mr. Kuroki, who is retiring, could still carry on in his absence. The purpose of making this trip was, of course, to keep up the "family feeling" among the alumnae, to help them feel that we are still interested in them as individuals, that the "brotherhood of man" is not merely a far-off ideal talked about in Bible classes. Another interesting bit of alumnae news is that Mrs. Yamamoto, a graduate and one-time teacher and now a member of the Board of Directors, has translated "The Lamplighter" and had it published. It is dedicated to Miss Bigelow, one of the former teachers of the school, and part of the proceeds Mrs. Yamamoto gives to the school for a scholarship.

In the religious life of the school the main special event was the coming of Miss Nishino, an experienced Bible teacher in one of our sister schools, for a week of addresses to groups large and small and conferences with small groups and individuals. The visible result of the religious work done throughout the year is not as great as we should like; only sixteen girls were baptized, but we trust that the seed sown has borne much fruit even though we may not be able to render a statistical account.

We may say that the public expression of the Christian purpose of the school centered in the Christmas program. The recently established custom of having a White Gifts Christmas was again followed. It was a beautiful worship service in which money, the labor of hands, and hearts themselves were dedicated or re-dedicated to the Lord's service. The audience, which filled the chapel, seemed to catch the spirit of it, too, for there seemed to be an eagerness to participate when the opportunity was given to share in the school's offering for the poor.

This year the Young Women's Christian Association has received more attention than usual, for we launched forth on things new. Formerly, all the girls belonged to one organization and the meetings were held in the middle of the day and every girl was expected to attend. Feeling that the religious needs of girls so different in age as the first and fifth year girls could not be met by the same program, we proposed to divide the Y.W.C.A. into two distinct organizations, one for the girls of the first two years and another for the third, fourth and fifth year girls. Furthermore, we felt that membership should be voluntary, so that there might be some outlet for girls with the same aspirations to work together. There were misgivings on the part of some that there would be practically none to join a purely voluntary organization, but it has not worked out that way. Although the meetings are held after school hours, so that it means a real effort to attend, there are about seventy-five in each organization, all willing workers, and the most wholesome rivalry exists between the two groups. In working with the younger group Christian leadership is the problem, for we began with no Christians in the group and only a very few from Christian families. We have been very careful not to urge girls to take part in meetings, so as to avoid their leading in religious exercises into which they could not enter with heart and soul. It is most gratifying to see the way the girls have developed. We rejoice in the blessing that has attended our efforts and pray God's further guidance in leading girls into a fuller and more abundant life.

Evangelistic Work

The young Sunday School helper who had been with us two and a half years left in the spring to take a teaching position. But without delay I was able to secure a graduate of the higher department of Sturges Seminary, who has filled the place very well indeed.

At the Christmas celebrations of our four Sunday Schools the attendance totaled nearly 350. Three of the four were held in the afternoons and to these a very few of the mothers came. But the last took place in the evening, and we were much pleased that a few of the fathers as well as some mothers came to listen to the children's songs and recitations. A dear Christian woman who has three children in one school, gave five yen toward the Christmas expenses. The Christmas collections amounted to sixteen yen (against ten yen last year), which, as usual, was divided equally between two Christian orphanages.

One cause of gratitude has been improvement in some of the children during the year. One little girl, who at first could scarcely be induced to repeat the Golden Text after her teacher and was usually inattentive and unresponsive, by the end of the year was often the first to answer and rarely failed to remember the Text. A little boy who had been a torment to the Primary Class teacher was a model of behavior at the Christmas exercises. More and more we feel the privilege and responsibility of touching these little ones in their tender years.

Our little monthly paper, the "Ochibo", has passed its eighteenth birthday. While we began in 1914 with 200 copies we now use 1500, besides which the paper has grown from four pages to eight. We have no means of computing the number of readers, for while doubtless some who receive it leave it unread, we know of many who after reading it pass it on to others. The wife of the Governor of Iwate Province, a school friend of Miss Tomegawa, writes that her husband, who is not a Christian, has recently begun to read it. One of our Sturges Seminary graduates living near us regularly received the paper but seemed very indifferent to Christianity. This autumn she became seriously ill. When the December number was left at her home, her husband said that in the confusion during her illness the November paper had been mislaid and that she was so anxious to read it, could we give her another copy? Of the total expenditure for the year a trifle over one third came from the readers, the remainder from special gifts.

Our every-other-week home Bible Class, which Miss Tomegawa began more than twenty years ago when we were in Sturges Seminary, still continues, even though the faces change. Our weekly Friday evening class has had fewer women and more young people, both girls and boys, than last year. Two of these young people were formerly in our home Sunday School, which they feel they have outgrown. Of Miss Tomegawa's three outside Women's Classes, one has not met since summer owing to the illness of the lady in whose home it was held.

My class of Middle School boys closed when all graduated this spring. One boy had been coming for the whole five years of his Middle School course, and he writes from his new school in Tokyo of his gratitude for the teaching received. Before summer I had a small class of business men in English Bible, but this autumn I have had instead a class of Higher Commercial students who are more regular in attendance.

The same young woman who came last year for an English lesson, followed by a Japanese Bible lesson, has continued quite regularly. Her patience in keeping on when her progress in English is so very slow, is admirable. I can only hope and pray that the Bible teaching will bring greater returns.

My new Sunday School helper, Miss Yoshikura, has been playing the organ on Sundays in our Mission Church and I have attended there Sunday evenings. Our cook regularly attends that church, and we were very happy when she received baptism there on Christmas Day. Her old mother, too, is becoming much interested.

Very near us lives an old man of 88, all alone, and dependent on the city for his rice. This year he began going with us to our Mission Church. Sunday evenings. He is so happy to read the Bible and the Christian papers which we give him. Each time, going to and returning from church, he bows profoundly to the local shrine, but I am sure that God understands and will lead him to a true faith. This old man one day found a tiny lost child crying in the street and took her to the police station as he could not find out from her where she lived. The mother was very grateful and came to see him, and hearing that he went to church, she began going and, also, coming to our evening meeting and sending her children to our home Sunday School. Thus the circle widens.

The independent church which Miss Tomegawa attends, and where I also go except Sunday evenings, rejoiced last year in the coming of a very fine pastor, but he was very frail and, after but a few months, went to his home in the north on sick leave. The people built a tiny parsonage on the church lot, so that when he came back the work would be easier for him. But the Lord had other plans, and in September He called Mr. Murakami to the Home above. The little parsonage stands as a tribute of love to him who truly won the hearts of his people during his very brief ministry. Now we have a young man, graduated this year from Auburn Seminary, who brought with him a wife from California, the daughter of a Japanese there. This bride went to America when she was but two years old and naturally knows rather more of American customs and language than of Japanese. But she is young enough to learn, and seems very happy in the tiny parsonage.

One of the young women baptized at the close of last year is such a dear little worker. She is the only Christian in quite a large family and is so anxious to lead her relatives and friends to the Lord. She has influenced eight or more different people to attend some meeting at least once, and in some cases fairly regularly. Now she has asked to be allowed to help in our home Sunday School.

If those people who see no need for Missions could share in the joy of seeing souls born again and new Christians growing, surely their attitude would change.

OITA

Evangelistic Work

All the work of last year has been continued. That means, of course, that our chief effort has been the work with little children. We have rejoiced that there has been apparently no opposition on the part of the school during the entire year,—perhaps the teachers have been changed, a frequent occurrence in the city,—perhaps the youngsters come in spite of their admonitions. We don't know, but the attendance has come up wonderfully during the year, especially in our Friday school at our home, where we often have over eighty children, from babies up through the children of the fourth year of school. In the Tuesday school, held in a mat-maker's home, the children are many of them from cafés, restaurants and similar houses. There this year has been marked by the attendance of all the tiny brothers and sisters who came last year on the backs of the older ones but are now coming under their own steam. They are too small yet to do much more than get "the Tuesday school habit" but that is a good deal as we look forward to future work. In the early fall one of the Imperial Family, a priestess of the large temple in Nagano, came to Oita and held meetings for several days, which were, of course, very popular and which resulted in a Sunday School in the temple, to which a few of our Tuesday school have transferred their allegiance. I think they will return eventually, as did our little boys who were attracted to the Catholic fold for a little while in early spring.

The Thursday school at the mill has had to move once more, as the family at whose home we met was dismissed last spring. We were a bit concerned as to our next meeting-place, but once again we were invited to meet in the home of one who has never before come in contact with Christianity. We feel that the Lord may have very special work for us there, since the doors have again been opened for us without effort on our part. The children there have all changed since we started the school several years ago, with the exception of one family; so we have practically virgin soil once more in which to plant the seed. Mrs. Sato, at whose home we work, would accept no rent, saying it was enough if her three little boys became better children and learned something which would make them good men. Our group there numbers twenty-five with practically a full attendance each week and with the hearty backing of every mother, some of whom often come with their babies on their backs to hear the lesson story.

Last spring the two ringleaders of our Saturday night boys' class finished school and went elsewhere; so the rest stopped coming until fall, when four of them returned and asked for a class again. We have been doing regular Bible study with these older boys and they seem to enjoy it and certainly listen carefully and attentively. Strange to say they dislike the singing and asked us not to have that, though one of them at least has an excellent voice. They usually come at six for a seven o'clock class! On Sunday afternoon we have a choice group of older girls from the Normal Practice School, girls who have been coming to us for five years. It is a group of but fifteen, but I think we are doing better work with them than with any other class, as they are bright, thoughtful girls and have been coming so long that they have a good foundation on which to build. One of them attends the school for the blind now as she has but one eye and will no doubt eventually be blind. She and her little sister of the Friday school are our most polite and appreciative pupils, yet their home is one of the most ordinary. Both of them sing like birds—a great help in keeping the others true to the tune.

Monday is supposedly the rest day for all the Christian workers in the city, but it has gradually become the day to which all sorts of meetings have been assigned. On the second Monday of each month the W.C.T.U. meets at our home and as treasurer I still stand guard over our hard-earned funds. It is not a flourishing society, but we have again helped a geisha to get away, and through Mrs. Utako Hayashi of Osaka, one of the great temperance workers of Japan, she has now a position in a Christian home and is respectably self-supporting. During the year we also helped the Saga branch financially in its successful efforts to aid a group of geisha who ran away from near-by licensed quarters at Takeo and asked to be helped. Again we dressed and sold dolls when the big tourist ships came to Beppu and we hope that our good (and otherwise) American tourists will be in a purchasing frame of mind next spring, as it is our main source of income.

Every third Monday comes the cooking class. Like the Thursday school the membership has so changed that only one of the original group remains. The women are so attractive and so eager to learn that it is a joy to teach them. They are good sports and will not only try to make anything I suggest but will eat it, once made, however much they may fail to enjoy it. After class we always have a little service, with prayer and a song and a short talk. The larger part are non-Christian; so we hope by this means to give them at least a little knowledge of the Christ. On the fourth Monday comes the work-class for young women, all of whom are also in the cooking class. We have met each month and are much reduced in numbers now, as one by one the girls have married and gone away. The girls have copied everything I own, almost, and do such beautiful work that it is a joy to see their things when finished. It is getting a bit difficult to find new things to show them, as I am not an expert in sewing and see so little of the things folks at home are now doing.

Alternately with Mr. de Maagd of Beppu, we have rejoiced to have in our home the pastors of the prefecture who meet for an all day conference every two months. Neighborhood meetings have been held frequently with good attendance and we rejoice that, as we are longer in Japan and get a better knowledge of the lives and problems of the people, our home is increasingly a center to which troubled hearts come to find help. We have done more in our home this year than ever before, because without a regular S. S. helper I have not had time or strength to do as much calling and follow-up work as formerly, except on the sick and shut-ins, and therefore am more often at home in the mornings—a fact that soon becomes known among acquaintances.

This year marks the beginning of my second term of service on the Board of Directors of Ferris Seminary and I rejoice that twice a year this gives me opportunity to keep in touch with old friends and inquirers who have moved from Oita to places near Tokyo and Yokohama. We feel that the follow-up work is very valuable and we never fail to receive a warm welcome. Where it is not practical to stop over, others will come to the station; so we can at least have a word with them and let them know that, though in lonely places, they are not forgotten.

Christmas as usual marked the high point of the year for the children and once again on December 21st our rooms became an auditorium for 199 children. Two little boys, tiny tots, insisted on sitting under the piano and, as there really seemed no other place big enough to squeeze them in, we sang without the instrument and didn't miss it. The greeting was given by a tiny tot of three, the daughter of a geisha, who did beautifully and looked beautiful, too, in her gala dress, the only one of the crowd to be "dressed up". In the middle of the program a commotion arose and all the children began to get up and gaze out of the window. I investigated and found that a large snake was the attraction. We stopped the program till all were satisfied, and then proceeded peacefully to the end. But, the end was not peaceful, as all insisted on getting their little bag of cakes and tangerines at the same time. At Kantan, the mill program was held the next night at the regular place and we were glad to welcome mothers, a father, and older sisters though it was a very simple program. We write the hymns in big letters on a chart, and one little tot, just as I was to start one song, called out, "It's crooked", and I had to straighten the chart before we could calm down and sing "Holy Night", the one they love best.

Last summer in Karuizawa a German Lutheran missionary taught us how to do painting instead of embroidery. It's fascinating and gives me one more string to my bow. The Ladies' Aid of the Oita church took it up and I held two classes for them in the fall and got the agency for the paint for the women. It has helped them a bit in aiding the church financially. Three women from that class joined the cooking class; so we're hoping to help them spiritually too.

Another new line of attack presented itself last spring in the form of a boy I've known since he was a little tot though recently I've had no special dealings with him. He suddenly came to call one day bringing a little box of stamps and asking if I had American stamps which I'd "trade" with him. Although I am not collecting stamps, I had taken off some of various kinds with a vague idea of using them somehow with the children; so I had some to give him. From that time he has come frequently with his stamps and insists that I trade, so perforce I'm a collector. He likes to read and has taken all sorts of books home and recently became a regular member of the reading club of the Eiseikan, Mr. Kuyper's Newspaper Evangelism office. So, again a friend has been made by most unexpected means, and I am thankful that in my childhood days I was interested in stamps and had a collection through which I had knowledge enough to help him in classifying his little collection.

This fall one of our old Sunday School girls came to me asking how one could learn to be a Sunday School worker. She is from a non-Christian home and cannot go away to school but asked me to teach her so that eventually she can do that kind of work. She started in with the Christmas preparations and helped us nobly. I doubt if she has the making of a Christian worker, but she has the foundation for a lovely Christian life and we pray that she may develop into a shining light in her own corner wherever that may be. We are so happy that this one young woman has come out definitely from our Sunday School work with a desire to serve the Christ of whom she first heard here in the weekly class on Friday.

As I look back over the year it does not seem as if much had been accomplished, but we know that the seed has been sown and pray the Lord to bring in a rich harvest, pledging anew our best efforts to use our talents, whatever they may be—our time, our home, ourselves, in whatever way the Master has need of them for the bringing in of His Kingdom in this country.

KURUME

Evangelistic Work

The Scripture verse "He faileth not" has repeatedly been proven true in our work during the course of the past year. How often we have been made to realize that our missionary efforts would be absolutely fruitless if it were not for the Spirit of God working mightily in the hearts of people!

Our Bible classes have been coming along nicely. Two members of the business men's class, one a teacher and the other the head of the tire department of the rubber-ware factory, became Christians, as did also three of the boys of the Middle School class. Then again "A little child shall lead them" was proven true in the case of one of our Sunday School children. Through her earnestness and enthusiasm in retelling at home the things she had learned in Sunday School, her father, mother and two older sisters became interested in Christianity and as a result, after about a year, were all baptized and are now constantly putting forth efforts to lead their friends to Christ as well as living exemplary Christian lives.

The Ladies' Auxiliaries of the Hainuzuka and Kurume Churches are doing fine work. In Hainuzuka the women again concentrated their efforts upon a nursery for the farmers' children in a near-by village. Through this work the whole village has become friendly toward Christianity, so that the pastor of the Hainuzuka church has been able to conduct a children's meeting there regularly every week as well as an occasional meeting for adults.

The high spot of the year may be said to have been the Kagawa meeting in Kurume on the 3rd of December. For weeks ahead of this time the pastors and Christians of the four churches prayed and worked together in order that these meetings might prove a blessing. Almost 2,000 people heard his messages and more than 300 signed "decision cards". The churches are now busily engaged in trying to lead these young seekers to become faithful followers of Christ.

Gradually, as the language becomes easier, I am trying to put more effort into work with women and less into English Bible classes for men. It is remarkable how opportunities naturally open up. Last spring a group of eleven Girls' School graduates asked me to teach them cooking and Bible. They have been coming faithfully every week and at the Kagawa meetings six of them signed cards. We still have our monthly meeting for women in the Post Office.

So we go on with courage and joy as our experience in Evangelistic work grows, and it is our humble prayer that God may grant that we may do our little bit toward making this city of Kurume and its environment a place where Christ shall reign and where all those who have the opportunity of hearing shall accept Him as their Savior and King.

KAGOSHIMA

Evangelistic Work

Woman's work in Kagoshima has suffered no set-back. Rather with the aid of a trained and competent helper it is more flourishing and better organized than in previous years.

The Sunday School which is held in our home continues to draw the interest of the neighborhood children. Classes for different groups have been reorganized. This has resulted in better order and more efficient teaching. Through the children the Sunday School helper has made many contacts with the families represented. Calls and visits have been made as time and occasion permitted. Many of the parents express their gratitude for Sunday School services which their boys and girls receive. During the Christmas season the mothers and fathers are asked to come to the program in which their children take a part. It is a compliment to us to know that our home is often pointed out by the children of the neighborhood as "the Sunday School Home."

Several visits were made during the year to the Sanitarium. To those who are able to receive, the message is given through the printed page, and a word of cheer and comfort. These visits have ever been welcomed and appreciated not only by the sick but also by the managers of the institution. This labor of love for the sick and dying has not been in vain. The message of the Lord Jesus always has a special attraction for those who are unable to be up and around with health and strength of body.

The young women of the local church continue to use our home as their meeting place. Here they meet twice every month. They have been an aid to the local church in making themselves responsible for new hymnals in the pews. They have also been a great help in the annual sales which the church as a whole has carried through. But, looking beyond the tangible things of church life, they have given their attention to those city girls who are not connected with the church. For these girls they have arranged meetings. Some of these city girls cannot come in the evening; so some afternoon meeting is planned for them. Others can come only in the evening; so programs are planned for various conditions.

The "Ladies' Aid" also holds all its meetings in our home. No other meeting-place seems so appropriate to them. We are glad to have them feel at home with us. During the year the Aid has stood by the local church financially, in giving aid both to the current budget and to various funds of the church for future needs.

Regular monthly meetings for servants of the neighborhood and church families were organized some three years ago and have been the means of great joy for the girls working in homes of well-to-do Japanese families. These girls are eager to come to these monthly meetings, which are chiefly devoted to singing, giving of general information, and Bible talks. Often as many as fifteen are present. These contacts with the girls have brought us into touch with the homes where they work, and all the ladies are most appreciative of what these meetings mean for their servants. They know the girls are under wholesome and uplifting influences while attending such meetings. The Bible talks they hear and the songs they sing will make an indelible impression upon their minds. Most of these servant girls come from the country districts, and life in the city is at times very lonely for them. We hope such meetings may be the means of leading them into a deeper relationship with each other and may introduce them to the local churches in the city.

There are two very large tobacco factories in the city. One is located very near us. Some 800 or more girls work in this one, and for these we are carrying on meetings in our home. The meetings are held early in the evening so that the girls can drop in on their way home. Many of these girls have been led into the church life and have become earnest Christians.

Thus our time is fully occupied with family duties and various meetings. We trust the Lord for results which we believe He will bring about to His own honor and glory.

Report for 1932

BASRAH

Evangelistic Work

The popular song of the season in my Thursday Club of poor children has been "Round and round the Village". This verse is followed by "In and out the Window" and then "Stand and face your Partner". "Round and round the Village" my work has certainly taken me, and in and out the doors of my friends' houses. All the conditions have been favorable—full time to give to the work, most excellent colleagues in the two Bible women, and more opportunities than we could possibly use to offer our message of Christian friendliness. The depression may depress financially and lay a heavy burden on those responsible for the budgets of organized work, medical and educational, but the evangelistic worker can rejoice in a heart as light as her pocket book. Our assets of friendship, sympathy, and interest in the ups and downs of the Moslem women's lives are, if anything, enhanced in value by the universal hard times.

Charity began at home, and at the outset of the severest winter in the memory of the oldest inhabitants, we distributed all our warm Guild Box garments and quilts to the needy frequenters of the Thursday prayer meeting and others whom we know personally. Tea was served at these weekly mejlisses and we had the satisfaction of knowing that not only were their bodies being warmed with tea and a fire but their hearts by friendliness and comradeship and their souls by the "Comfortable words" telling them of Jesus' love.

Out of the same social class, for the most part, come the children of the Thursday morning club. Their age ranges from babies in arms, through a selection of the naughtiest small boys in Iraq, small girls ditto, up to girls in their early and middle teens. The latter are over-burdened with domestic cares and can rarely come unless lugging a baby brother or sister, who hamper their activities extremely. But they enter none the less heartily into the program of games, songs, and story-telling, brush the flies off the baby's eyes assiduously when they see the awful examples portrayed on the Egyptian health charts, and park their charges happily in the window-seats with Guild Box blocks, while their elders settle down to the sewing lesson. There is a large need in Basrah for Child Welfare work, and for a simple socialized educational effort for the children of the poor and of the villages. This is a class that the Government schools hardly touch. They are very appealing and the need is great.

House visiting is infinite in its variety and absorbing in its interest. Nowadays I find that many of the better-class women of Basrah are dissatisfied that Basrah is so far behind Baghdad in social progress and express the wish that they might unveil and go into society. The cinema is having its influence here; the newest development of our "talkie" house is a Friday afternoon performance exclusively for women. Old-fashioned women deplore these new-fangled diversions and lay all the faults of present-day life to the fact that the Arabs are adopting Western ways without assimilating them. The more progressive say that the Arabs must learn to assimilate new ideas and that women must have their share in the program of the future.

Evangelistic work is indefinite and uncharted in its boundaries, but it is profoundly satisfying in its richness of personal relationships. In the mat hut of the coolie's wife and the beautiful town house of the family of a member of Parliament are the same joys and sorrows. "Round and round the village" every door and every heart is opened by the key of Christian friendliness.

"I cannot put His presence by, I meet Him everywhere;

I meet Him in the country town, the busy market square;

The Mansion and the Tenement attest His Presence there.

"He comes to break the barriers down raised up by barren creeds;

About the globe from zone to zone like sunlight He proceeds;

He comes to give the world's starved heart the perfect love it needs."

(MRS. JOHN) DOROTHY VAN ESS

Educational Work

Basrah Girls' School—Looking back over the school year there were a few outstanding events. Most of the time, however, went into teaching the three R's and carrying out the curriculum of an ordinary grade school.

Each week ended with the Friday play period, which is as popular as ever. Group games are a great favorite, and yet the team games develop a team rather than an individual interest. A few girls play Badminton quite well and we hope more will play it this year so that we can have real team play.

Christmas is always a happy event. The program is in the hands of the kindergarten teacher, and the little ones find us an appreciative audience. The climax of the party is the distribution of presents. We are glad so many of the girls enjoy dolls as the presents for the older ones are a great problem.

In the spring all the children were vaccinated against smallpox. In times past this has been a great ordeal. However, they are health-minded nowadays, and very few offer any objections or shed any tears.

We had a week's vacation in the spring as there was an educational conference in Baghdad. Our four teachers went for the week and Miss Kellien and I went for part of it. It was the first attempt at such a conference and we were surprised at the number attending. Eight or nine hundred were registered. The women were there, too, and the front of the hall was reserved for them. Some of the Moslem women preferred the seclusion of the small gallery. After the regular sessions the members divided into groups to discuss the questions as they pertained to them. The conference members were entertained for tea in the garden of H. M. King Faisal, and he appeared and spoke very acceptably to the gathering. The Minister of Education also had an afternoon tea at his beautiful rose garden in Kadhimain. It was interesting to be there, near a Moslem holy city, where Moslem men and women as well as Christians and Jews were entertained together. The women were all invited to the palace to meet the Queen, but we were not in Baghdad in time for that event.

The children all have Bible lessons daily and we still seem to be sowing the seed without any visible sign of growth. We keep on, confident that the day will come when our girls will waken and there will be fruit worthy of the harvest.

Total enrollment 90:—Moslems 39, Christians 35, Jews 16.

Number of school days 183, highest attendance 83, average attendance 70.

KUWAIT

Evangelistic Work

After being away on holiday and getting back just a little while before Annual Meeting, it is not easy to collect one's thoughts for a report of the year's work. The evangelistic work has followed the lines of other years. The women of Kuwait are very friendly, and there is never a morning when there are not women and children in my mejlis. Three mornings a week are taken up with reading with the young girl who has been coming to me for the last three or four years. On Friday mornings another girl comes to have the Gospel read to her. Two mornings a week it is my privilege to take the dispensary prayers at the Women's Hospital.

I cannot feel that there is any deeper interest in our message than in former years, and in fact I would not be surprised if the opposition were greater, because last spring they estimated that about six hundred people went on the Hajj from Kuwait, and the greater part of these were women. In spite of the depression, and also because of it, the price for the return journey to Mecca was as low as two hundred rupees per person. Women sold their gold jewelry at a high price to make the pilgrimage. Many of them never stopped to think about what they were going to live on when they came back.

Last spring we made a little change in our Sunday school arrangements. Mrs. Gosselink had the Shah Riza family and Nurse Jemila in her class and I collected the women and children who were in the hospital for a short service in the women's mejlis in the church. I hope that in some way this arrangement can be continued. The services at Beit el Rabaan on Sunday afternoons have been fairly well attended by women and children.

It was a great pleasure to have Mrs. Gosselink in the station for part of this year. She was always so ready and willing to co-operate in every way, and I felt when we left for our holiday that the women who were used to coming to see me would receive a cordial welcome from her. They all feel sorry that she has left Kuwait. Mrs. Gosselink also re-opened the sewing classes which Mrs. De Jong started.

We look forward to a new year of work, hoping that greater opportunities will present themselves and that we may be able to use them to help these Arab women and children to find Christ as the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

(MRS. STANLEY G.) BESSIE A. MYLREA

Medical Work

The report of the Kuwait women's medical work covers the entire year. Certainly in the number of dispensary patients there has been progress. In other lines, outcalls, inpatients and obstetrics there has been no appreciable advance over former years.

This year's work has been carried on with the aid of one nurse—an Iraqi girl, trained in Basrah—and our three former Persian women. There is no doubt that the hospital is understaffed.

This summer will long remain in the minds and hearts of the Kuwait people as the year of the smallpox epidemic. It is hard to think of a town of fifty thousand in which scarcely a house escaped the disease, and the disease was of a very fatal type. There was not the slightest attempt to isolate the cases, and attempts to vaccinate during the severest part of the epidemic were unsuccessful. This last month the Municipal Government has opened vaccinating centers. I have visited eight girls' schools and will try to cover all the girls' schools in the city.

Our clinics were very large during the summer months. August was the record, with daily average attendance of 112 and reaching the peak of 180. To treat that number of crying babies and impatient mothers in two rooms with one trained helper on a warm August morning is somewhat of an endurance test. It really would seem that there is no limit to those who will come for treatment, and one rather racks one's brain for ways of decreasing rather than increasing the number of dispensary patients.

Obstetrical cases numbered eighteen, which is the same as last year. Ten of these women were delivered in the hospital, two of them were wives of mission helpers and the remainder came of their own volition or I, finding their case difficult of delivery at home, urged them to come. This is the first year in which I have had a woman in difficulty in labor actually brought to the hospital by her family.

Financially the year has not been a success. Many bills remain unpaid and many have been reduced to an absurd degree. Paying outcalls are few and clinic patients who pay are far in the minority. I sincerely hope that no cut will be made in the appropriation for next year for the people of the town are poor and needy.

Morning prayers were held as usual during the year. I often feel that there is an opportunity being wasted in not having a worker talking to the women during the time the clinics are being held. I must include in the report my appreciation of the services of Mrs. Mylrea and of Mrs. Gosse-link in taking morning prayers. The latter was alone during the summer months and her talks and reading to the inpatients were much appreciated by the women. I must also express my thanks to Dr. Mylrea for his support and assistance during the year.

New cases 5,557, total treatments 28,325, outcalls 246, inpatients 75, obstetrics 18, operations 146.

BAHRAIN

Evangelistic Work

The evangelistic work for 1931-32 was carried on by Mrs. Pennings until her illness in November, and her efficient work was an excellent example to follow. Her illness showed us how many friends she had made among the high and low. The poor always could come to the house but we were constantly surprised when the better class Arab women would send over to tell us they were coming to see her.

Besides the usual calling on the women in their homes and at the hospital many women came to see us at my home. Every Thursday we stay at home and it is a very busy day. We have all sorts and descriptions of women coming. In the morning from fifteen to thirty come, the poorest of the poor. Thursday afternoon we have a better class of women. Many women, especially widows, ask us to write letters for them to Mr. Belgrave, the Advisor to Sheik Hamid, asking him to intercede for them in behalf of their inheritance. The women have learned that when they have an inheritance they don't have to leave it with a religious sheik or some other representative but can have the handling of it themselves. Others have come asking us to get permission to send their daughters to school.

When we realize what a terrible struggle a lone progressive Arab woman has against her intimate family and whole tribe and most of all against the religious sheiks, we are amazed at their courage to dare to speak for themselves. Our freedom in our homes and everywhere is a constant wonder to them, and I say to them that when Bahrain becomes a Christian place they will have it, too.

The Women's Hospital this summer, when the men were diving, was over-crowded. They are so grateful for the skill and kindness of the doctor and nurses there. I believe our sincerest friends have come after they have been in the hospital. This summer Dr. Tiffany had four babies given to her. Two were born of unmarried mothers and two were picked up from the streets and brought in by policemen. This has never happened in our time in Arabia before. My reason for writing the above is not to report on hospital work but to bring up one of the needs of the future. These babies whom no one wants give us a wonderful opportunity and tremendous responsibility. If we can take these little cast-offs and make them stars in the Master's crown it will be worth all the time and effort we put into it.

This year women have come asking for lessons, which will be given. Several of the women who can read have been given Gospels and it is encouraging when they ask what certain parts mean. They read the Koran without understanding a thing, but they tell us they can understand most of the Gospel.

We look back not on just a year's work but on the forty years of work done by our Mission ladies and know that what we see just beginning to come up in the garden of the Christian life is from the seeds of faith, love and prayer that have been sown.

In closing we wish to thank all those at home for the material aid they have given us to help brighten the lives around about us. We are grateful that the women of the church are so kind as to send out these things and above all we are so thankful for their thoughts and prayers that have strengthened and sustained us throughout the past year.

(MRS. BERNARD D.) ELDA HAKKEN

Educational Work

There is nothing very new to report—the work has been regular; the statistics show a small increase as usual; we are still over-crowded; we still long for an additional classroom; we still hope (in vain?) for another full-time teacher. Yet we close the year with hearts full of thanksgiving that, such as it is, we have this school for girls in Bahrain with its opportunities of touching lives and giving scope for all our energies to make those lives fuller and richer in every way and above all in our Bible classes to show the Christian way and to point them to Christ our Saviour.

Just after Ramadhan the school was deeply shocked by the death of one of the older girls. She was an Arab of good family, refined and gentle, endeared to pupils and teachers alike. She had gone to a neighboring island to spend the month of fasting and all month chafed at her enforced absence from school. As the month drew to a close she looked forward with joy to coming back, but on the Feast Day she was taken ill and died suddenly in a few days. We were able to see her before she passed away but she was very, very ill. Her going was a profound shock to the whole school, and Arabs, Persians, Jews and Christians mourned her loss equally.

The school co-operated with the Women's Hospital in giving time to three of their local "nurses-in-training", teaching them reading and English. Two of these pupils were mature married women and showed an admirable ambition to qualify themselves for such a training at this point in their lives.

We had fewer parties than usual this year, since some of the days for them fell on Saturday or Sunday. This year we changed our doll distribution from Christmas to the end of the school year and so rewarded the attendance for the year. The occasion was made an "ice-cream party" and each child was surprised and delighted with a huge dish of pink ice-cream. I had a local vender in and bought his whole stock! I wonder what some of our "old time" missionaries would think of ice-cream in June in Bahrain peddled locally!

The Club held regular meetings all the school year. The officers have developed remarkably in the ease, poise and dignity with which they "officiate". The Political Agent presented the Club with a jigsaw puzzle at Christmas time and in their reading of newspapers and magazines the girls have become interested in other puzzles, anagrams and brain-twisters.

In closing we wish to thank the Sewing Guild at home for the gifts of dolls and school supplies, which are much needed and much appreciated.

Enrollment 111: Moslems 69, Jews 34, Christians 8; average attendance 41.

(MRS. LOUIS P.) ELIZABETH P. DAME

Medical Work

The year has been a very busy one. Both Nurse Mary and Nurse Sundra went to India at the beginning of the summer and their absence always means increased work for our hospital.

Four babies were given to the hospital this year and two are living. One who died was brought in from the sheik's house, where the queen had given shelter to an illegitimate mother. A second who died was born in the hospital. The mother came to the hospital alone and we were obliged to feed her and give her a servant as her people, though well off, would do nothing for her. The two living ones are Sammy and Paul. Sammy, who is now about six weeks old, was sent in by the Government from a family of prominent people. He is illegitimate and was going to be killed when the Government was informed and stepped in. He was about a week old and starved. He is now doing finely and gains between one and two ounces daily. Paul was a husky lad to begin with and was brought in by a couple of policemen who found him thrown out in the street. They bore him to the hospital reposing in state on a burlap sack!

Wurda is a young Bedawia who fled to us when four months pregnant. Her family according to custom were planning her death. The baby was born prematurely and died. Wurda can read and was a Koran reader in her village. She is anxious to go to school, but as yet we do not dare to let her go to so public a place. Her people have come a number of times and are of a fine type. This only makes the girl's danger the greater as they value their family honor. The girl begs to stay with the Mission and does not wish to return. The Government has been very helpful in the matter, and the sheik expressed his apprehension that, although the father apparently was willing to forgive the girl, his intentions were quite the opposite and she had better stay with us. It is a source of great satisfaction that at last one such girl was able to reach a place of refuge.

This year several babies have been left alone in the baby ward to get well; that is, their families have not stayed with them. This shows increased confidence and has happened this year for the first time.

The medical work in Bahrain is certainly "white unto the harvest". We have only been able to take care of the work that actually came to our doors asking and demanding to be done. Village people are asking for tours which we simply have not had time and strength to undertake. We are called occasionally to the villages for some desperate case. Once a poor woman and her mother came from Zulag, about 25 miles, on donkeys. They pitifully announced they had had to pay money for the donkeys and they hoped I could do something. In a few moments the dislocated jaw was replaced and a surprised and gratified patient voiced astonishment and thanks.

It looks like a busy year ahead; activity is general and we all rejoice in the prospective arrival of Mrs. Van Peurseem.

Clinic treatments 16,606, obstetrical cases 85, outcalls 976, operations 104.

M. N., TIFFANY HAENGGI, M.D.

MUSCAT

Evangelistic Work

In all the work we are seeking to do, the words of the Lord Jesus to the sisters have a solemn message to us: "Thou art busy about many things—one thing is needful." How to obtain a hearing for the message we have come to bring is a constant problem.

This leads me to the first study of the year's work, the semi-weekly mejlis. This work has been continued twice a week as heretofore, but it has had an unsatisfactory side, as well as a brighter side, because of the very evident purpose of several only to partake of the refreshments, to exchange some gossip and then to be off. Some came last year until after Christmas, hoping for a gift. When nothing was given they ceased coming for a while. These have now come back for reasons best known to themselves. Yet in the midst of opposition and unbelief we do meet with some expressions of interest here and there which encourage us to go on with our work. A few there have been who seemed to listen with interest and to follow what was said to them, who respectfully put aside their handwork while the Bible lesson was in progress and were silent during prayer. On every hand, however, there is evidence that the people have been very definitely warned against our message. Realizing that, we have cause for gratitude that we can still bring the message to so many.

Once a week I meet with three women and we have been studying hymns, reading a Psalm or some other portion and having prayer together. In the ruling family I have three pupils, two in English and one in Arabic, the latter an unmarried cousin of the Sultan. A fourth is not really a pupil, except of friendship—she is hungry for more things than she knows and more dissatisfied with her life and surroundings, and, I believe, her religion, than she dares to express, and so I try to give once a week this friendship hour—and she has let me feel in many ways that she is appreciating the friendship.

Shortly before we went on summer leave the wife of one of the Matrah hospital helpers asked for lessons in our Scriptures. At the time of asking she said, "All these years I seemed not to care, but lately I feel hungry to learn and to understand." This woman, more than twenty-five years ago, was a pupil in our Bahrain Girls' School. I arranged to begin lessons when I returned from leave.

There is still other teaching—that on Sunday when the Baluchi children come, generally in very large numbers. The annual exodus of summer affects the attendance of these children, too, but all through the year we have had all the pupils we could handle well or teach. The number of pupils enrolled is 161.

A few women attend Sunday morning services and then stay for a short Bible lesson after the general service. Since Dr. Hosmon left on furlough I have gone to the hospital four or five times a week to give a talk to the women there. One day a week has been reserved for Matrah. Every time in Matrah there is a readiness to hear the reading, and occasionally there are requests for it, and altogether there has been a spirit of friendliness toward the message that has been encouraging and cheering, which I have not met with in Muscat in general. The impression grows that Muscat—and no doubt Matrah, too—is a very wicked place, that there is wickedness of a sinister kind belonging to the Arabian underworld, a world of demons and sorcery and evil spirits. Only the almighty power of God can bring to life those who are dead in trespasses and sins, and all our expectation is from Him. "And Jesus answered and said unto them, 'Verily I say unto you,—if ye have faith and doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, "Be thou taken up and cast into the sea," it shall be done. And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.'"

(MRS. D.) MINNIE W. DYKSTRA

AMARAH

Evangelistic Work

The Women's Evangelistic Work in Amarah during the past year was carried on as best we could with the help of Miss Lutton and Miss Dalenberg. To them I am indebted and grateful for the help they gave in taking their turns in the weekly prayer meeting and continuing the Sunday School work with the youngsters on Sundays. Miss Lutton also continued giving lessons to the Sabean girls until the time of her vacation.

Hasana also had her Bible instruction and she thus absorbed a great deal of knowledge. She passes on her knowledge to others, and is very keen to testify for her Saviour. Weekly lessons were given to a poor leper woman whose physical condition has become such that she is not able to attend our services any more. She always offered voluntary prayer after our lesson and talk. She suffers a great deal physically and it is very hard to see her thus. Pray that the Saviour whom she confesses to love may be her constant Comforter and Helper. There was a great satisfaction, in teaching her, to have at least eight to twelve listeners in her hut who heard the message and her testimony.

The wife of one of our hospital helpers, a very young bride, started instruction in the spring of the year. She is very promising. Her husband is very anxious she should learn Christian principles. We pray they both may experience a true spiritual life in Christ.

We now have a wonderful new room, a separate building for women's meetings and evangelistic work, situated alongside the church building. A walled-in space, enclosing the building, affords a nice playground. How we wish that we had a full-time evangelistic worker to take charge of the women's work and again take up the class-work with the girls. There is such a crying need for the uplift of these poor street waifs, who continually ask, "When are you going to start our class-work again?"

Limited as my opportunities for work have been, it has been pleasing to note the gradual increase in the attendance at services and in the interest displayed in our messages. I hope and pray that the good Lord, who alone makes our work possible and successful, may use what has been done to the extension of His Kingdom.

(MRS. W. J.) CORA MOERDYK

Medical Work

In Medical Mission Work our ideal is to keep always before the minds of the people the purpose of a Mission Hospital. Just how far we succeed in doing this, it is difficult to say. We give relief to the poor, we help the suffering, we preach the Christian message. To us, our purpose is clear, but when we come to the close of a year's work, we ask ourselves, what does the hospital stand for in the minds of the people?

It is apparent that from the standpoint of the women of Amarah and surroundings, the Mission Hospital is a place to which they can go in time of need. They know they will receive personal attention and be treated with kindness. They know, also, that it is a place where they will hear the Christian message. It is doubtful whether any of them come for this reason, but they cannot help listen when the Word of God is read and explained to them, and there have been mornings when some have shown a desire and keen interest to hear more.

Throughout nine months of the year, the outpatient work was the outstanding feature. Daily clinics were held, but the Thursday clinics for the poor brought the largest crowds. In hot weather they began coming as early as six A. M., all being anxious to see the doctor and return home with their children before the heat of the day. We do not have the crowding at the door that formerly made the day so trying, for they have learned that no one can come in before her turn. Our efforts have been directed toward keeping them seated in orderly rows in the waiting-room, moving toward the office door as the numbers advance. This has been achieved to a certain degree.

Obstetrical work shows a steady growth. In 1930 there was one case, in 1931 eighteen, and this year there were thirty-seven. A few of the patients this year were from better families and paid fees. In April we had our first hospital baby, and since then six have been born in the hospital. I had almost no difficulty in persuading the mothers to come for confinement, although the idea was entirely foreign to them. These were all poor patients, but as the poor paved the way for me in the beginning of this work, I trust they will also open the doors of the hospital to others of better means who cannot help seeing the difference that proper care and clean surroundings must make in the lives of mothers and infants. In no phase of the medical work have I had an opportunity to get so close to the hearts of the women as I have in this. When they have trusted me with the care of their little ones, their homes are open to me at all times, and lasting friendships have been made.

One does not expect to hear about Sunday School work in a medical report, but I cannot close this one without mentioning the Sunday School conducted in the hospital waiting-room every week. In a way it is an outgrowth of medical work, for many of the small boys and girls who attend have come to know us through the hospital work. We now have an enrollment of 70 and the pupils are surprisingly regular in attendance. They were wild and unmanageable in the beginning, and often it seemed that to try to teach them was about as effective as talking to a pack of jackals. But Sunday after Sunday they came, and gradually we began to see a change. They are learning to be quiet and respectful, and many are eager to tell the Bible stories they have learned. Memory verses and songs are their chief delight.

As we look back at the year's work, we are thankful to have had the hospital as a means of giving relief to the poor and of showing them Christ's love for them by word and deed. At the same time, we recognize our own spiritual needs and shortcomings, and as we look forward to another year of work it is with the prayer that, with all the splendid equipment God has given us here in Amarah, we may render Him more faithful and untiring service and cause His gifts to fulfill in every way their highest purpose.

Total attendances 13,243, total inpatients 25, obstetrical cases 37, out-calls 331.

ANNUAL REPORTS

For the year ending May, 1933

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

In the early summer of 1932 the theme for the new year was sounded by our President at the May Anniversary at East Orange and at "Ladies' Day" of General Synod at Kingston: "Launch out into the deep!" Little we knew what deep seas we should sail before the year was out or how utterly dependent we should be upon the Pilot who alone could steer our course through the blinding fogs of the year's uncertainties.

No special or unusual program has been proposed. For a twelvemonth we have kept out of the limelight, for June, 1932, which rang out the Centenary of the Board of Foreign Missions, rang in the Golden Anniversary of the Women's Board of Domestic Missions. Reciprocating the consideration shown us by our Sister Board in our 1925 Jubilee we have refrained from any promotional plans except the continuation of the Women's Exchange, through which 150 women's societies have been placed in helpful correspondence, each with an Exchange Partner.

Summer Conferences furnished surprises. The Home and Foreign Missionary Conferences at Northfield, Mass., in which our Boards have co-operated from the beginning, underwent a significant change. By popular vote at both Conferences decision was made to combine the two in a joint conference, the direction of which is now in the hands of the "Women's Interdenominational Committee of the Northfield Missionary Conference" with membership from both Home and Foreign Boards. The Silver Bay Conference of the Missionary Education Movement, after celebrating its 30th Anniversary, ended its career as a separate conference, but continues as a Summer Training School in Missionary Education in connection with the New Jersey School of Methods in Christian Education at Blairstown, New Jersey. At the close of the Northfield Conference the Secretary of the Board was summoned by telegram to conduct a study class for the wives of ministers attending the School of Theology at Pine Lodge, Michigan, which has resulted in the organization of a more formal School of Missions at that conference center for this coming summer.

At Lake Geneva and Winona Conferences, the centers of inspiration for the women of the Middle West, Mrs. Garrett Hondelink and Rev. Milton Stauffer were Reformed Church representatives on the teaching staff. At the Stony Brook Conference for Reformed Church Young People, Miss Weddell led a choice group of our own boys and girls along congenial paths of missionary education.

Sorrow came to us in the summer in the death of our friend, Mrs. Norris, who came on the Board as Miss Martha Bussing in 1896 and served successively as Secretary of the Baby Roll, Secretary for Japan for eighteen years and Recording Secretary of the Board. Twice since then have the gates celestial opened for the triumphant entrance of those who have companied with us in service—Miss Harriet M. Lansing, thirty-six years missionary in Japan, four years emeritus in America—the stars in her crown are many—; Mrs. Christine Van Raalte Gilmore, pioneer from the Netherlands to Michigan, mother of missionary organizations in the West, President of the Classical Missionary Union of Holland, Grand Rapids and Muskegon until the infirmities of age came upon her, Honorary Vice-President of the Board since 1895.

New runners are needed to catch up the torch that falls from failing hands. We are happy to have added to the Board membership, Mrs. Norman V. Peale of New York, Mrs. George C. De Bevoise of Flushing, Mrs. Paul E. Hinkamp of Holland, Mrs. Edwin G. Van Valey of Bronxville, and to our Honorary Vice-Presidents, Miss Maud Clark, a valued Board Member of former years. The resignations of Mrs. Raymond Crawford and Miss Marion Benedict have been accepted perforce. Regretfully, but at her earnest request, we have released Mrs. E. E. Olcott from active membership, but we still retain her active interest as an Honorary Vice-President.

Two predominant topics of the year have been the Laymen's Inquiry and the Depression. In November, representatives of the Board were invited to a two-day conference at the Hotel Roosevelt to hear the Report of a Commission sent by a self-constituted group of laymen to India, Burmah, China and Japan to appraise the mission work of seven denominations in those countries. Later our western members were invited to a similar meeting in Chicago. The published report, "Re-thinking Missions", was generously sent by the Committee to every member of the Board. Though no pronouncement upon the Report was made by the Woman's Board, there was general concurrence in the statement made public by Synod's Board. It is interesting to note in the annual reports from all our Missions (See "The Story of the Year") that our medical and educational missionaries count their successes or failures not in the number of cures or passes, but in the measure in which Christ has come into the lives of patients and pupils. Well do our missionaries merit the confidence and appreciation that was expressed to them by cable from the Presidents of the Mission Boards and the President of Synod.

To capitalize this new attention which the Laymen have focused upon the missionary enterprise and to dispel some harmful misinterpretations current among those who have read criticisms of the report rather than the report itself, it is important that we now promote with unprecedented vigor the education of the entire Church in the aim and program of Reformed Church Missions. How fortunate that for such a time as this the Missionary Education Department has ready a complete and fascinating study course adapted to every age from the Sunday School "Beginners" to the Adult Bible Class. Those who earnestly long to set Christ's Kingdom forward will make it their business to get as much of this program as possible adopted in the churches to which they belong.

The economic crisis has been a severe test of the faith and courage and devotion of the Church, the Boards, the Missionaries. In November, in recognition of the financial stringency, we pared our cherished budget from $175,000 down to $155,603. We reduced the allowance for "mission work" 15% below the allowance of 1931 and proposed to the missionaries that they apply a percentage of their "maintenance" to the work. A "self-denial fund" was proposed to Board members, missionaries, and finally to the Church at large. From month to month, as we watched the progressive loss in income, we knew that it was due to the actual inability of our church people to give as they were accustomed and our hearts were filled with sympathy for many who had "suffered the loss of all things." In this emergency the headquarters staff deemed it a privilege to share in a sacrifice of salaries similar to that made by the missionaries, other economies were effected, and the budget was further reduced to what seemed a more possible goal: $137,779. Nevertheless, we approached the month of April with an apprehension that we might go over into the new year with a heavy load of debt. Then, in came the hoardings held in banks, the funds that had been accumulating for special projects through the year, contents of mite boxes, proceeds of self-denial, penny collections that had mounted into dollars, and by special request the final emptying of local treasuries. True, we have not attained our goal and the way before us is far from clear, but the situation is so much less bad than it might be that we are ready to sing the long meter doxology from sheer relief.

Too much cannot be said in appreciation of those churches and societies and individuals who, with funds tied up in banks and personal incomes diminished to the vanishing point, still managed by sacrifice to meet pledges and to make as generous contributions as they have. Some who had nothing to give pledged themselves to study and to more faithful prayer. Too much praise cannot be given to the missionaries on the field and on furlough who have accepted their limitations with such wholehearted devotion that, as one wrote from Arabia, "Depression was cheated of his quarry." Especially to be honored are those missionaries who have postponed their furloughs for a year to save expense of travel and those who have set forward their retirement in order that the difference between their active and emeritus salary might be used to return younger missionaries to the field. Oddly enough the reduction of salaries caused some misunderstanding in the churches. "If our missionary's salary is less", some said, "why do we give the full amount?" We hope it has become clear to all that the cutting of salaries was a gift of Peter to pay Paul and that any diminution of a salary payment by a home church or Classis would nullify the sacrifice made by the missionary. Next year we trust that both Peter and Paul may receive their rightful due.

Total receipts for the Budget from all sources are $115,637 as against $148,348 last year.

One of our regrets has been our inability to send out the new workers so urgently called for. Miss Virginia Reeves, appointed to fill a vacancy in Ferris Seminary, was sent with salary specially provided, but other young women, finely equipped, who have heard the Master's "Go" and the Macedonian "Come", must wait till the assurance of salary and travel expenses opens the way to service for which they have long been preparing.

In the home office we have tried to practise every advisable economy. It was thought best not to discontinue the little NEWS quarterly which, at small cost, conveys much information to the societies. We have not curtailed the distribution of literature for program purposes nor the sending of speakers to the churches. Missionaries on furlough have given their time generously: in the east Mrs. De Jong and Dr. Hosmon from Arabia, Mrs. Korteling, Dr. Gibbons and Miss Noordyk from India; in the west Miss Van der Linden, Mrs. Veenschoten, Mrs. Renskers, Mrs. Poppen, Mrs. Laug and Mrs. De Bruin. Miss Conklin and Miss Buss have contributed their missionary experience, and voices of Board members can always be heard in the land. Motion-pictures of the Secretary's experiences in China and Japan have helped make the work and workers real to congregations, Sunday-schools and societies.

Missionaries who were with us last year have returned to the fields enriched in friendships: Mrs. Boot and Miss Green to China; Mrs. Barny, Mrs. Van Peurse, Miss Van Pelt, Mrs. Harrison and Miss Ruth Jackson to Arabia, Mrs. L. R. Scudder, Miss Wyckoff and Miss Jongewaard to India.

By marriage we have lost one missionary and gained another. Dr. Tiffany, now Mrs. Walter Haengg, completes her term of service at Marion Wells Thoms Hospital this summer. Mrs. Van Peurse, trained nurse, will take charge of the hospital until another doctor can be sent. Wedding bells in Japan announced the welcome addition of Mrs. Barnerd Luben to the Mission family at Meiji Gakuin.

Well-earned honors have come to our workers. Mrs. Dykstra received recognition for 25 years of service in Arabia, Miss Couch for 40 years in Japan. Miss Van Doren, who on Miss Wyckoff's return to Sherman School was released for a five year term of service as one of the Secretaries of the National Christian Council of India, Burmah and Ceylon, has been decorated by the British Government for distinguished public service to India. Miss Sada Hayashi, having served most acceptably as Acting Principal of Ferris Seminary during Dr. Shafer's absence in America, has been appointed Vice-Principal of the School. Miss Holkeboer, during leave of absence of the Chinese principal of the Amoy Girls' School, has been recalled by the Chinese Board to the principalship.

To certain significant political events in our Mission lands, we must allude as a matter of record, for they may become vastly important in future to the progress of the Kingdom of God—the entry of Iraq into the League of Nations, the invasion of China by Japanese armies, the promise of a new constitution to India. Local disturbances by communists in our Amoy district, described in the Amoy Report, seem already to be bearing fruit in Christian seriousness and fortitude. The opening up of motor roads and bus routes in China is notable as extending the highways over which our Lord shall pass into the homes and hearts of the village folk who constitute so great a proportion of China's population.

And now a word about our home family. Only four new missionary auxiliaries have been reported, Eighth Grand Rapids and Grandville in the Classis of Grand Rapids; Greenville and Lincoln Park in the Classis of Westchester. Three other societies, though not formally reported, have appeared on our record for the first time, Cambria Heights and Williston Park, Long Island, and Falmouth, Michigan.

Classical Committee appointments are as follows: Classis of New Brunswick, Miss Mary Suydam, succeeding Mrs. J. H. Cooper, deceased; Classis of Rensselaer, Miss Adaline Beekman, succeeding Mrs. George Pitts, deceased; Classis of Hudson, Mrs. William E. Prouty. Classes of Pleasant Prairie and Germania still unprovided.

The Women's Societies are increasingly ingenious in planning their programs and often put our wits to the test by their requests for help. One society decided to "Rethink its Budget" and asked for a detailed statistical account of all the special objects to which it was contributing through the Classical Union. In the same mail another correspondent wrote: "We have a woman in our Society who doesn't believe in Foreign Missions.

Please tell me how to convert her." A mother writes "My small son has been asked by his Sunday School teacher to get the latest information about our church missions." A society asks for a radio program. We make one on Japan, but think how much more fun the women would have had if they had prepared it for themselves. Others ask counsel about re-organizing their societies for greater efficiency, combining missionary and aid societies in one organization, starting a Home Department, giving a Baby Roll Party. Rather jealously we have transferred all but the adult correspondence to the Missionary Education Department, which is now fully equipped for giving help to all the younger groups. Exceptions from this transfer are the letters that deal with foreign missions projects and special occasions, such as the Village Schools of India, the observance of Foreign Missions Sunday. Forty Village Schools are now supported in whole or in part by individual Sunday Schools. The missionaries engaged in village work have surpassed themselves this year in supplying brief and spicy accounts of the villages to whet the enthusiasm of the supporters—a valuable contribution to the educational design of the project.

At the end of this difficult year we thank God for "fleeing horizons." We have not attained nor are we already perfect, but we press on. "The ever creative God is continually doing new things." We follow after Him.

EDITORIAL AND EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY

Several reasons have conspired to lessen the sales of the textbook; only 150 copies are reported by the Board of Publication. There have been fewer requests, also, for the leaflets; only 180 sets have been sent out, though some have been taken at the Conferences. The leaflets supplementing "Lady Fourth Daughter of China" have been

As We Went to Dragon Mountain
Chee-O
The Herb Doctor
Food for Thought
Then and Now
What of the Harvest?

The Christian Intelligencer's columns have afforded an opportunity to reach our constituency with notices of the Birthday Reception, the Anniversary, as well as sharing with regularity the news from the fields. We have had a reprint of "Woman's Work in Arabia", and also published "Happy Moments."

All we ask is to have the Master's Hand on the "common round," and to have faith to see the uplifting beauty in the long, level hours of every day, that life may never lose its halo.

DEPARTMENT OF YOUNG WOMEN'S WORK AND MISSIONARY EDUCATION

The year just passed has been one of unusual penetration into the purpose and program of our work with the youth of our church. In the Young Women's Committee and in the Missionary Education Council we have been asking ourselves some searching questions; how far is the great need of the Mission Boards for support touching the Young People? How are they responding? How far are our churches making places for the services of newly inspired youth? How deeply does the world's need of Christ touch these younger members in our churches? Are they being led into spiritual experiences that make them want to share all they have with others? In League meetings and Young People's Societies throughout the country there has been noticeable a new stirring of interest and enthusiasm in the world-wide program of our church, and many have responded in a new way to the call of Christ for service in His world. Following the Young People's Conference at Stony Brook, where twenty or more boys and girls from our Church Societies spent an hour each day considering the subject, "The Young People's Share in the Missionary Program of the Church", many letters and messages have come to the Church House pledging new interest and better support. "I am going home to try to tell all the young people in our church about this thrilling job which we ought to be doing", said one boy as he left the Conference. And he did it! The fact that there have been ordered by our churches more than three hundred copies of the Young People's Bulletin, "Becoming World Citizens"—which came out of the missionary activities of Stony Brook, is clear indication that our Young People are more and more ready to "stand by."

Northfield Conference, which drew over a hundred of our church girls and Young Women last summer has served also as an inspiration throughout the year. "When you see a church suddenly awakened to new missionary interest, look for a member who has been to Conference", remarked a pastor recently. And those churches which were able to send delegates last summer to—Stony Brook, Northfield, Silver Bay, Geneva, Winona, Pine Lodge—have reaped untold benefits throughout the church year. Approximately three hundred of our Reformed Church Young People are given these invaluable opportunities for leadership training each year.

In the local church too,—in Leagues for Service and Missionary gatherings of the Young People's Society—many others of our youth have given themselves in a wholly new way this year to a consideration of Christian world-citizenship. Holding a missionary speaker long after his talk to ask questions, dispensing with many of the usual social activities in favor of forums and discussions on live world issues, undertaking special financial obligations, and meeting them, in a year so filled with serious economic handicaps,—all are indications of an awakening among our youth which is fraught with great possibilities.

What might happen in our country and our world if groups of Young People everywhere were to pause more and more often in the awareness of God's presence and let themselves realize what His purposes are for the world. What might life be like if all the best and most far-reaching possibilities were set free in every individual in these groups? What might each person develop into if he were to set himself wholeheartedly to create the new world of God's dreams? These are the searching questions which our committees are facing and which are fundamental to all our activities.

More missionary program helps have been called for repeatedly by pastors and church leaders in order to keep new interests alive and start the educational process among those children and youth who as yet are not "missionary conscious." This year has seen the completion of a cycle of Missionary Programs for Primary—Junior—Intermediate—Young People—and Adults on both the Domestic and Foreign missionary work of our denomination. Maps and other illustrative and supplementary leaflets have been prepared to enrich the program manuals, and no church now need be without adequate program helps for its missionary activities. Much of the Secretary's time has been given this year to preparation of this material in co-operation with the Boards of Missions. There have been an increasing number of opportunities to attend Sunday School teachers' meetings and other gatherings of leaders in the local church for the sake of demonstrating and interpreting these programs, whose very titles are indicative of their value:

- For Children:     Our World Neighbors—Six lessons on the Foreign program of our Church.
                           Our American Friends—Six lessons on the Domestic work of our Church.
- For Juniors and Intermediates:     Little Worlds of Opportunity, in a Big World—Six sessions on our Foreign Field.
   Missionary Worship Programs—Six sessions on our Domestic work.
- For Young People and Adults:     Becoming World Citizens—a manual of Missionary programs for Young People.
   Roadbuilders—an introduction to our Foreign Mission program.
   Marching Thousands—a story of our Domestic Missionary task.

Our Young People are not only taking on new responsibilities but they are at the same time drawing more closely together as younger members in our church family. A noticeable trend throughout the country has been the working together and meeting together of boys and girls, young men and young women. Some Leagues for Service have disbanded in favor of a mixed Young People's group; many Leagues have arranged joint activities and mixed parties and study classes. There is a move toward doing things as young people of the Church rather than in smaller specialized groups.

Some Leagues for Service have during the year taken direct affiliation with the Women's Boards of Missions and are making their contributions to the Boards' projects instead of to those which are known as Young Women's Projects. This move, added to the increasing number of mixed groups among our young people, materially changes the total sum of contributions from Leagues for Service. Many gifts, formerly coming from Leagues, are now coming through a different channel and we are therefore no longer speaking in terms of a Young Women's Budget but rather "Young Women's Projects", "Young People's Projects." There have been, even through this year of financial difficulty, many encouraging new efforts in giving. New money has come through sacrificial efforts to offset some of the older pledges that have had to be reduced. There have been thriving

"Penny-Saving" and "Do-Without" campaigns among our Leagues that have yielded much in both money and renewed spirit. The gifts for the year from Leagues for Service have totaled $8,228.61 for Domestic Work and $6,596.42 for Foreign Work—a grand total of $14,825.03.

It was just a year ago that we sounded the challenging question to our Young People, "Am I a bystander or a standbyer?" And as the months have gone by a glad response has continued to come from many groups and from many individuals. "You may count on us," is their answer. "We will stand by!" And in this steadily increasing response we take hope for the future. There is much to be done with our youth,—prejudices to be broken down, interests to be stirred, talents and skills to be seized upon, enthusiasms to be brought into harmony with Christ's spirit, hearts to be dedicated to His service. We face the challenge of the future. Ten thousand League members, twenty thousand Young People, working—praying—studying together—what shall not be accomplished with such a host?

SUE WEDDELL, Secretary.

THE BABY ROLL

Fewer names have been added to the Baby Roll this year—a total of only 186.

Of this number over one third have come from the churches of Michigan, and the only twins from the First Church, Muskegon, Michigan.

Three missionary babies are included—two in Japan and one in China.

May we hope that it will be possible to enroll a much larger number during the coming year and in this way materially help the "Pity Little Children Home" in China, and the "Hospital Babies' Home" in India.

In these Christian homes the children learn to know and love our Saviour, who, when on earth, "Took the little ones in His arms, put his hands upon them and blessed them."

"In the heart of a bulb is the promise of spring;
In a little blue egg, there's a bird that will sing;
In the soul of a seed is the hope of the sod;
In the heart of a child is the Kingdom of God."

CAROLINE RAVEN VAN NUIS, Secretary.

THE SEWING GUILD

Our thoughts are first drawn to the home side of the work. In reading the letters which accompany the boxes as they come from the Auxiliaries, I have been deeply impressed with the spirit in which the work has been accomplished. Many letters come to me telling of the great joy, pleasure and blessing which have come while having a share in this noble work.

In no other calling can we find such an appreciative group as the ones to whom the boxes are sent. The first "Thank you" letter came from Arabia:—"The Guild Boxes have arrived and they are all most welcome and the contents are helping to fill an acute need. Our in-patients have been so much more numerous this year that it has made demand for supplies more than twice our former need. Also we have six infants, four of which are Mission Babies and the fifth practically so as his mother is the servant in partial charge of the infants. Bertis, the first, is now two years old. Yusef is almost one year; Abdullah is over a year old and will soon be returned to his parents. The other three are illegitimate children, two of which were picked up by the police and brought to us. Clothing for such as these will be most welcome both for hot and cold weather."

"We are grateful for the lovely supplies that have come to us", writes another. "For sheets, pillow-cases, towels, soap, quilts and blankets, also for the dressings, bandages and gauze. We do so appreciate the Guild Boxes and really it would be quite impossible to 'carry on' the work without the help they give. We hope many will feel moved to send boxes next year as the hospitals need not pay duty and the supplies are needed so much."

An evangelistic worker writes: "You have made me so happy with such a generous supply of warm garments. The winter will be a most difficult one for the poor. Our cold weather has begun early and there are lots of poor and needy this year. Some of the warm garments have already been given to mothers for their babies."

From India we have an account of the pleasure derived from the things sent there: "What a delightful afternoon I had unpacking your beautiful Guild Box! Thank you and all the dear people who prepared all the lovely things. They are fine—never better, and I feel so rich in the knowledge of all that joy stored up in the store-room for so many poor people. The big full petticoats are such pretty patterns this year. I gave one of the pretty blue sacques last Sunday to beautify a plain white dress for a baby who was to be baptized, and it appeared for the ceremony minus the dress, clad only in the sacque put on hindsides before. The quilts, blankets and knitted mufflers are lovely. The dolls and toys are wonderful and those little flannel dresses will be keeping many shivering babies warm in these damp and chilly days of the monsoon."

Another writes: "You will be interested to hear, I know, that the box which you so carefully packed has come and we didn't lose much time in opening it and packing things away in the Guild Box Almira. And wouldn't you like to be around when we missionaries get together the next few days and invariably ask, 'Did you get a nice Guild Box?' 'Did you get what you wanted?' 'Did you get the baby slips and blankets you asked for?', etc. I was delighted with mine and it will go a long way to provide for our 300 village children. I really was agreeably surprised to get so many substantial things, realizing the financial condition at home, and I am sure many things were sent at a great sacrifice on the part of the givers."

From another worker we hear: "The boxes were so generous and it was such a pleasure to receive them. I am glad so many of the baby slips were flannel. They are a joy to give when you know that most of the babies haven't as much as a mat to sleep on, nothing between their naked bodies and the damp mud floor. I have been going over and sorting for the various village Christmas parcels. Things seem almost too good, and yet why shouldn't we give even the poorest something really nice now and then? Of course, the duty on everything is high, but all the same we could not begin to buy all the things we find in the boxes for what we pay in duty, freight, etc.; so I vote for the continuance of the Sewing Guild with both hands. We are beginning to be very busy with Christmas preparations. Our Woman's Dorcas Society is sewing on cloths for fifteen or twenty children in the poorest quarter of our village to make them fit to go to school. We are now taking the 'untouchables' into our caste girls' and boys' schools. So far there has been very little objection, but we do feel we must help them to come to school clean."

From a grateful doctor comes this message: "I wish you could come out to visit us and see your boxes unpacked for once. It was such fun opening mine because there were so many useful and lovely things in it, and everything had been so well packed that not a thing was broken or spoiled, and so many people can have a share and will unite with me in thanking our Heavenly Father who inspired and helped you and the devoted women who have worked and sacrificed to make it possible. The daily call for bandages in the morning dispensary work never ceases, and there is constant use of the towels and soap that were sent me. Since the hospital has been rebuilt I have such a fine large store room with its many shelves, a great contrast to the narrow little one I had before, and it is a joy to spread out so that we can see things. I wish you could peek in and see how nice things look. After unpacking your lovely boxes of hospital supplies, one of our nurses came up and said, 'We need this and that for the wards', and I said with great satisfaction, 'There they are; help yourself'. The nurses hailed with joy the bright little crib blankets for the children's ward and the maternity department. The picture-rolls and cards are very welcome and we can use so many of them. And here I am sending such a list for next year's boxes, I am forgetting how hard are the times in the beloved homeland, and the marvel of there being Sewing Guild boxes at all when the need at home is so great. Forgive me, please!"

Can we ask a greater reward for our work of the past or a greater inspiration for our efforts of the future than are found in the words of a native nurse in one of the hospitals in India? She writes: "You love the people of India; therefore you send these things."

My work in the Sewing Guild has acquainted me with the missionaries and their problems, their hopes and their joys, and in a sense has brought me into quick sympathy with the people themselves. Thus, through the Sewing Guild as through other avenues, we are drawing closer to these people, understanding them better and helping them more effectively in their development, and surely this brings with it sufficient incentive to continue our work with unabated interest.

MARY LOUISE POWLES, Chairman.

COMMITTEE ON LIFE AND MEMORIAL MEMBERSHIP

Your Chairman begs to present the following for 1932-1933:—One name placed on Memorial Membership Roll—that of

MRS. WILLIAM S. DENISON of Marble Collegiate Church, New York.

Twenty-four Life Memberships—less than half the usual number. Your Chairman has refrained from making a special appeal for this particular form of service—lest it should detract from the gifts to regular obligations—there having been, as we must sorrowfully acknowledge, a marked tendency, when it has been necessary to reduce the size of budgets, to begin with benevolences.

After long and serious consideration your Chairman has been led to believe that, as the soul of Life Membership is "Intercessory Prayer"—for the worker and her endeavors to promote the growth of God's Kingdom in Foreign Lands, efforts to procure Life Memberships should have been redoubled—rather than curtailed. Certainly a church's influence and strength is increased by the number of those who are earnestly and constantly in communication with the Source of all power for specified workers. This is the form of service which is exclusively offered to Life Members of the Foreign Board; therefore we unhesitatingly recommend it for serious consideration by the Auxiliaries.

In this time of testing—have we failed to lay hold of the innumerable promises of God?

Christ said:—"Ask, and it shall be given you—For everyone that asketh, receiveth"—"Whatever ye shall ask of the Father, in My name, He shall give it to you." Again—"According to your faith be it unto you."

"Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in Mine house, and prove Me now herewith, saith the God of Hosts, if I will not open you the windows of Heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room to receive it."

Recalling these promises, may our Life Memberships be in future an outstanding method of procuring the so much needed help which is so graciously offered.

In relinquishing the chairmanship of this committee, I feel somewhat like a mother—transferring the care of a much loved thirteen year old child to another. However, it is done with the firm conviction that the new guardian will so train and nourish the child that it will increase in strength and efficiency—and prove to be a strong, and yet stronger factor in promoting the work of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ in Foreign Lands.

ADALINE W. STILLWELL, Chairman.

May 24, 1933.

Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, R. C. A.,
25 East 22nd Street,
New York, N. Y.

Mesdames:

We have audited the books and accounts of the Treasurer of your Board for the year ended April 30, 1933, and submit herewith the following statements which, in our opinion, properly set forth the transactions of the Board for the year and its financial condition as at April 30, 1933.

EXHIBIT

"A" Statement of Assets and Liabilities as at April 30, 1933.

"B" Summary of Receipts and Disbursements for the year ended April 30, 1933.

SCHEDULE

1. Statement of Receipts for the year ended April 30, 1933.

2. Statement of Disbursements for the year ended April 30, 1933.

Cash balances were reconciled with statements submitted by the depositories, and the securities called for by the books were examined.

The accounts of the Board's Golden Jubilee Fund were combined during the year with the general accounts of the Board.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) CLARKE, OAKES & GREENWOOD
